CAL MAY AGAIN SEEK OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

Coolidge Silent on Plans but Friends Expect Him

DISLIKE THIRD TERM IDEA

Might Select Man from Cab-

port to Run

Washington—About the only person in the world who can tell definitely whether Calvin Coolidge will be a candidate in 1928 to succeed himself is Calvin Coolidge—and he won't tell. But now that Senator Cummings of Iowa has publicly predicted that he did not believe Mr. Coolidge would wish another term and that he will have enough of the job by 1928, it may be said that friends and advisers of the president do not share that view and everything is proceeding "politically" in exactly the same manner as if Mr. Coolidge were an active candidate today.

Nobody has ever heard from the president's lips a statement as to whether he will or will not be in the 1928 race. The nearest anyone has come to learning what is in Mr.
Coolidge's mind has been a comment now and then that the future can take care of itself and that 1928 was not a matter of importance at this time so much as doing the presidential tasks of the hour in creditable fashion.

EXPECT HIM TO RUN
But Mr. Coolidge is human. So his friends guess that having tasted power and especially having earned a popularity in the electoral college which has rarely been approached, he will not at his relatively young age be willing to retire. The president is 54 years old. Most presidents are about 56 when they take office. Mr.
Coolidge shows no sign of physical fatigue, in fact he hardly ever shows the strain of responsibility.

Naturally the friends of such outstanding figures as Herbert Hoover, Charles Evans Hughes and Charles G. Dawes are hoping that Mr. Coolidge will not be a candidate. It has been suggested time and again that Mr. Coolidge might do as did the late President Roosevelt, namely, select a man from his cabinet to take the race throwing the entire Coolidge strength to him.

Indeed, even if Mr. Coolidge had today made up his mind not to run, there is every political reason for withholding such an announcement or any intimation of it until the last moment. This is because congress pays little attention to a retiring president, whereas the possibility that a president might be a candidate for reelection keeps the party from being torn with factional strife developed by rival candidacies and otherwise maintains a solidarity in the relations between the executive and legislative branches of the government.

CULTIVATES SUPPORTERS
Mr. Coolidge has not hesitated to cultivate political friendships and maintain alliances which by every token seems to indicate his desire to make use of them in another presidential campaign. But politics is second nature to him. He might be doing all this because it is his natural way to carry on in politics.

Only one thing might dissuade Mr.
Coolidge from becoming a candidate again and that's the attitude of the Republican party toward him. And the party will not feel kindly if Mr.
Coolidge is the subject of widespread criticism and if it is apparent that the third term idea and other items would make the party doubtful. The party wants to win. Mr. Coolidge wants the party to win. If he were on obstacle he might consider with drawing. But if his record is as strong as it is today he alone will have made it and he and his friends will feel that Calvin Coolidge is the logical man to make the race. So whoever can foresee political and economic conditions in June 1928 can say whether circumstances will favor another nomination for Mr. Coolidge. Judging by present signs, Mr. Coolidge would certainly have the support of those state delegations which constitute a substantial majority in nominating conventions.

SEEK DOCTOR FOR MURDER OF YOUNG GIRL

Issue Warrant for Surgeon Who Was Alleged to Have Operated on Victim

Boston, Mass. — (AP) — Warrants charging murder were issued Thursday morning for Dr. Thomas E.
Walsh and his wife were alleged to have performed an illegal operation on Miss Edith L. Greene, state ward, whose dismembered body was found Tuesday.

The police Wednesday night raided the office of the physician in the south end but both he and his wife had disappeared. James V. Ford young sweetheart of the dead girl who had admitted responsibility for her condition told the police that he took her to Dr. Walsh last Friday and that the physician told him on Sunday she had died after an operation.

Ford declared that he refused to have anything to do with the disposal of the body, the dismembered parts of which were found in the Mattapan section near two cemeteries.

The police said they would prefer charges as accessory against Ford.
Dr. Walsh is well known to the police. He has been convicted of practice without a license and has been arrested on other charges.

ROBBER GETS $250 LOOT FROM STORE

Milwaukee — (AP) — Locking three employees of a chain store in a small room, a robber opened the safe here
Thursday and escaped with $250 loot.
The robbery had locked the manager and clerk in the room when Arthur Haertle, driver of a milk wagon, entered. He was beaten unconscious by the robber using the butt of his revolver, and thrown into the small room.

FOREST FIRES STILL RAGING IN NORTHWEST

Takes Nine Lives, Destroys Thousands of Acres of Valuable Timber

Seattle, Wash. — (AP) — The Pacific Northwest Thursday entered its second week of the forest fire menace which has taken a toll of nine lives and destroyed thousands of acres of valuable timber with the United States weather bureau giving little hope of relief from dry weather. Continued high temperatures, low humidity and winds were predicted.

The latest death resulting from the fires was Mrs. Zealie Watt and her two children and Mrs. Clifford Nesbitt.
They were trapped by a fire while driving in an automobile between Banff, Alta. and Windermere, B. C., Tuesday.

A fire warden who returned to Edmonton, Alta. from the white court district on Athabasca river, said flames traveled through tree tops at 8 to 10 miles an hour. He expressed fear for safety of the province's most valuable timber.

The Kanisau forest in Montana was covered by 130 fires in dry timber.
A fire near Glacier National park has burned over 5,000 acres and was said to be beyond control.

Aviators patrolling Rafter National park timber in western Washington reported progress in controlling immense blazes. Large fires were reported in widely separated districts of British Columbia.

Glennsburg, Washington, police Thursday were investigating a fire which Wednesday night destroyed a four mill and several buildings causing a loss estimated at more than $100,000.

DETROIT POLICE OFFICIAL QUILTS

Commissioner Won't Attend Meeting to Hear His Alleged Shortcomings Discussed

Detroit — (AP) — Declaring he could not attend a conference in the city hall on vice conditions at which "my own alleged shortcomings" were to be discussed, Frank S. Croul Thursday resigned as police commissioner.

The conference was called following the recent report of the American social hygiene association which declared Detroit to have more vice than any other city in the country.

"This report," Mr. Croul said,
"makes serious charges against what it calls the 'police higher-ups' of course I am the highest up and as such I accept full and entire responsibility for the department under my administration."

As a result of the associations report, a drive on disorderly houses and inmates now is in progress.

Winnet, Conn. — (AP) — Barricaded in a cottage with its windows boarded up its water supply cut off and its telephone disconnected, Mrs. Marion Henning of Hartford Thursday was holding "the cabin" at Highland lake near here, while its owner, Louis S. Griffing, a Hartford electrical contractor, was trying to oust her. He was recently married and found Mrs. Henning in possession of the cottage when he came here with his bride. Basing his claim on a marriage contract she claims Griffing made to her Mrs. Henning has laid in a weeks supply of provisions and despite the lack of water and light, declares she will not leave unless ousted by a court order. Men said to be hired by Griffing, remain on guard outside the house ready to seize the property the moment an opportunity presents itself.

With Mrs. Henning is her 12 year old son. It was reported that friends had smuggled in five gallons of kerosene to her during the night and that her son had reached a nearby well for water.

Arsenal Blast Does More Damage Than Big Berthas

Dover, N. J. — (AP) — Not even the "big berthas" which fired on Paris dug craters to match those scooped out by Saturday's major explosions at Lake Denmark naval arsenal, in the opinion of Captain A. T. Lewis.

He is a man who believes the army is safer than Broadway, who has been in the marines for 21 years and who was in charge of the first marine camp in France. Wednesday he led the 100 untried who for the greater part of the day fought fire in a building adjacent to two in which high explosives were stored.

The wastelands of Lake Denmark are in worse condition than any place on the western front, he declares.

During the night there were seven heavy explosions and 25 reports from small arms ammunition discharging.
This was less than the night before.
Rain between midnight and six A. M.
did not extinguish the smoldering embers and the marines continued their fire patrols.

Wednesday the marines laid a half mile of hose line to the waters of a small lake to be used in case of emergency. An army board for two days has been going into the extent and cost of damage to the army post at Picatinny which adjoins the wasted Lake Denmark naval depot and where practically all the buildings except those used for the storage of ammunition were so shattered that they must be rebuilt.

A naval board under Rear Admiral R. B. Harris will consider damage to property not owned by the government and Friday the court of inquiry, which is to hear the testimony of survivors and investigate all other circumstances of the catastrophe is to convene here under Rear Admiral R.
E. Coontz.

A regular army detachment of 150 men under Brigadier General Hugh
A. Drum which was rushed here Saturday from Fort Jay and Fort Wadsworth for police and patrol duty was withdrawn Thursday.

London — (AP) — Brigadier General
Lincoln D. Andrews, American probi-tion enforcement chief, here to seek official British cooperation in fighting rum runners announced after the first conference Thursday that every

General Andrews left the foreign office after a two hour discussion palpably pleased and wearing a broad smile. Before the meeting, the Amer-

CANADIAN COW SETS NEW MILK RECORD

New York — (AP) — A new world's record for milk and butterfat by a four year old Jersey cow was claimed Thursday for Pretoria, Oxford Janet, owned by Foster Whitaker, 17 year old Vancouver B. C. high school student.

In a 305 day test supervised by the dominion's agricultural department, the cow produced 14,935.2 pounds of milk and 872 pounds of butterfat, which L. W. Morley, of the American Jersey cattle club declared is a record for that breed.

EUROPEAN FLOODS KILL 9 AND HURT SEVERAL

Belgrade, Yugoslavia — (AP) — Nine persons are reported to have been killed and several injured in floods of the rivers Danube, Save, Tisza and Drave.

The floods were caused by torrential rains and resulted in much damage to buildings, crops and stocks in the environs of Petch and Djakovitz.

SUBWAY STRIKERS ARE CROSSED FROM PAYROLL

New York — (AP) — The subway strike, which the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. announced Tuesday was ended as far as they were concerned when all strikers were crossed from the payroll showed new signs of life Thursday.

At strike headquarters it was announced that 105 men walked out from the 74th street power house and had thrown in their lot with the strikers.

The strike is now nearing the end of its second week. Service according to subway officials is practically on a normal basis. Most of the strikers are subway motormen and switchmen.

PEOPLE TRADE THEIR RIGHTS FOR BONUSES

Charge American Citizens Barter Liberty for Government Bounties

Denver, Colo. — (AP) — Increasing paternalism of the federal government was scored Thursday by the American bar association. The organization's forty ninth annual convention placed itself on record through adoption of the report made by its committee on American citizenship which declared the "American citizen of today is bartering his individual liberties and rights for government bounties and bonuses" and decried the increasing tendency toward centralization in government.

The Roman citizens bartered their ancient liberties for bread and circuses," said the report. "The American citizen today is bartering his individual liberties and rights for government bounties and bonuses. He demands government interference in everything and surrenders his individuality in return for it. The American citizen is being pauperized by government aims. If he supports the government he asks the government in return to support him."

The report was signed by James M.
Beck, former solicitor general for the United States and others, including Charles E. Matson of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The report of the committee also contained an indictment of law schools and colleges as the training ground of the legal profession. After declaring that "law schools of the country are not teaching the constitution," the report recommended that each prospective candidate for admission to the bar be required to pass an examination on the federal constitution.

The convention also approved the report of its standing committee on jurisprudence and law reform in which the body went on record as opposing the adoption by congress of a bill introduced by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, that has for its purpose "substantial curtailment of the powers of trial judges."

The report further recommended a revision of federal judicial circuits, providing for another circuit to be composed of a portion of the eighth circuit now comprising 13 middle western and western states and of a few states from the fifth and ninth circuits.

TRADES UNION AGREES TO AID BRITISH MINERS

London — (AP) — The trades union congress at a conference with the executive of the miners' federation Thursday agreed to give all possible assistance to the striking miners. The congress will raise funds to support the miners in their struggles against longer hours and reduced wages.

The health section was urged to greater activity in promoting sports for women, physical development being described as an essential to business success.

Athletic girls no longer are "Tom boy" and their freedom has gone a long way toward raising the health standard of women, the delegates were told.

Women are finding themselves greatly handicapped by sex in the legal profession but these prejudices are being overcome steadily, speakers at the legal session said.

Fate Of Yohanek Hangs In Balance As Trial Ends

Manitowoc — (AP) — Alternate pleas for conviction and acquittal of John Yohanek, aged recluse of Kellnersville charged with slaying his 76 year old wife, were heard Thursday by the jury of 12 men who expected Thursday afternoon to decide the old man's fate.

The chain of circumstances in this case is consistent only with the theory that murder was committed," asserted District Attorney Teitgen.
"That fracture on the head caused death. That wasn't an accident, it wasn't suicide, it was human agency and that human agency was John Yohanek."

Reconstructing the story of the death of the woman at Kellnersville last February, district Attorney Teitgen concluded that Yohanek killed the woman then attempted to dispose of the body by dismembering it.
Finding it a "big job" the prosecutor maintained he had decided upon the firing of the home to wipe out the evidence of this "infamous and attrocious crime."

HANGED TWICE FOR PLOTTING AGAINST CHIEF

First Rope Breaks as Con-spirator Against Turkish President Is Hanged

Smyrna — (AP) — It was necessary to hang Chukri Bey, brains of a plot to kill President Mustapha Kemal Pasha, twice Wednesday. The first time he was hanged from a tripod on the waterfront, but the rope broke and he fell to the ground.

Many of those who witnessed the incident, especially the women, interpreted this as a sign that the victim ought to be pardoned but the executioners quickly removed him to another tripod set up in front of the city hall, where he was despatched without further delay. Thirteen conspirators were hanged at widely separated points because the new Turkish penal code prescribes that one condemned man must not see another executed.

Each of the men hanged wore a placard reading: Condemned to death for having plotted against the life of our beloved Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of the republic and saviour of the honor of Turkish nation.

Djam Bolat Bey, former minister of the interior before going to his death, predicted disaster for the Kemalists government. The bodies were left hanging exposed to public view, until noon when they were cut down. The women then struggled for pieces of the hanged men's ropes, believing it was a native superstition that they would bring good luck.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO SEEK BALLOON

Aeronautic Association Is Alarmed at Disappearance of Blimp

Chicago — (AP) — Alarmed at lack of news from the balloon, Detroit, one of four which left here Tuesday night in a national race, officials of the national Aeronautic association Thursday appealed to the government to aid in a search of eastern Tennessee and northern Alabama for the missing bag.

All the other balloons have landed and one of them the Hi-Bal-1 which landed south of Portland, Arkansas early Thursday is believed to have set a new national record for balloons of 35,000 cubic feet capacity.

Fearing that the Detroit, which apparently has not been sighted since the take off, drifted east in the upper atmosphere or fell into a storm area in the eastern fringe of the Appalachian mountains, the officials asked the government to broadcast appeals for information about the bag and to ask residents of the Appalachian region to search for it.

Haynes Falls, N. Y. — (AP) — Fourteen bodies had been recovered Thursday from the ruins of Twilight Inn which was burned early Wednesday. Two of the bodies were identified. They were:
Dr. G. Livingston Bishop a retired Episcopalian clergyman of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Cornelius P. Erkmanbreed, whose address was unknown.

Identification of the other 12 bodies and of others which may be taken from the ruins will be almost impossible in the absence of wearing apparel or other marks. Two bodies found in the basement of the hotel Thursday were but charred bits of bone and ashes.

A large number of relatives of former guests at the inn arrived here
Thursday morning to assist in iden-

WANTS PAY FOR INJURIES FROM FIGHT IN MILL

Combined Locks Employee Says He Was Kicked and Lost Use of Foot

Hearings of claims under the workmen's compensation act were continued at the courthouse here this morning by Commissioner P. M. Wilcox. Five cases were heard Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning.

Permanent disability of one foot was claimed by Anton Wydevon, in his case against the Combined Locks Paper Co. Wydevon alleged that he was thrown to the floor on March 18, 1925, and kicked by a fellow workman, and that as the result he suffered a permanent disability in one foot. The company contested the claim of permanent disability, but did not deny the encounter between the two workmen.

In the case of Martin Hall versus Bergstrom Paper Co., Hall alleged that he suffered a permanent disability of his left hand on Feb. 3, 1926, when a finger was caught in a machine at the company's plant. The back of his left hand was also severely cut, he alleged. The company denied the extent of the injury, but admitted the accident.

In the hearing of Anna Dreger versus The Tuttle Press Co., Mrs. Dreger alleged that she injured her spine when she fell while she was working for the company on March 22, 1924. Adjustment was made between the parties and the case was settled after the hearing.

Arthur Kessler alleged that he suffered hernia as the result of an accident while he was employed by the Combined Locks Paper Co. on Dec. 8, 1925. The accident was caused when a dryer spear fell and struck him, injuring his right side, he alleged. The paper company contested the cause of the hernia and also the extent of the injury.

In the case of Mrs. Almira Sach versus Capitol Grill Restaurant, Mrs. Sach alleged partial disability of a thumb as the result of an accident during September, 1925, in which a silver pierced the thumb. The accident, she alleged, occurred while she was working for the restaurant. Two claims listed on the calendar of the commission, Frank Juncos versus Thimany Pulp and Paper Co., and Otto T. Melzer versus Gilbert Paper Co., were not heard this week as the parties failed to appear.

C. C. DEMANDS CARNIVAL BAR OUT GAMBLERS

Will Attempt to Close Show if Gambling Concessions Are Permitted

A committee of nine members of Appleton Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution Thursday morning opposing any kind of gambling concession or lottery device at the Dodson carnival which will exhibit Loyal Order of Moose. The Chamber there next week under auspices of the commerce is not opposing a carnival itself or any form of wholesome amusements it was pointed out. But it was made plain that the law will be enforced if there is any gambling in connection with the show. It was also shown that if the carnival violates the statutes forbidding gambling and has its license revoked in the city the state treasurer agent has the power to ask the state to revoke the state license making it impossible for the show to exhibit anywhere in Wisconsin.

STRANDED AUTOMOBILE WRECKED IN COLLISION

Automobiles owned by Charles Maas, W. Melvin-st. and Wenzel Blahnik, 600 W. Packard-st. were badly wrecked in a collision about 10:30 Wednesday evening. The accident occurred shortly after Mr. Maas had parked his car near the west end of W. College-ave where he ran out of gasoline. The Blahnik car collided with the rear of the parked automobile. A badly bent frame, a sprung rear axle, and a bent left rear fender was the extent of the damage to the Maas car, while the Blahnik automobile received a bent left front frame, a dented radiator, and a bent left front fender. There were no injuries.

FORMER RESIDENT IS NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Louis Lautenschlager, formerly of this city, who was in an automobile accident Sunday at Milwaukee, was not seriously injured but suffered cuts on his face and body, according to word received by relatives. Miss Lucille Birkenmeyer of Kaukauna, who was with Mr. Lautenschlager at the time of the accident, suffered a few scratches. The car in which the young people were riding, was hit from the back by another car, and turned turtle.

Kids Of All Ages Watch Sells-Floto Circus Unload At Appleton Junction

Many an Appleton youngster awoke with the birds or even earlier Thursday morning, dressed hurriedly and dashed away in the general direction of Appleton Junction for the big day of the year had come at last and Sells Floto circus had arrived. But in spite of the early awakening of hundreds of kids and also a great many grown up "kids" ranging in age from 20 to 80 few if any were on hand to see the first section pull into Appleton Junction as it arrived shortly after midnight having only a short run to make from Green Bay, where the big tent show exhibited Wednesday.

But as later sections arrived the crowd increased until there were several hundred watching the unloading. By about 11 o'clock practically all the work of setting up the big tents on the show grounds on W. Spencer and S. Outagamie-sts had been completed.

Circuses have changed since the last decade, but not for the worse. Some of the acts that made a good many old timers famous are missing, but the show business like any other great enterprise seems to be in the process of evolution. At all times the public is taken into consideration and the huge crowd which witnessed the afternoon performance saw a program of acts which was particularly pleasing to all.

Perhaps no other out-door amusement enterprise ever assembled a finer showing of hippodrome horses. The jumping horses were especially spectacular as was the horsemanship of the riders. The Buffalo Bill Wild West show featured a tribe of Sioux Indians from the Pine Ridge reservation. They did a war dance and a sun dance.

One of the menagerie attractions that always draws a large crowd is "Nogo" the huge hippopotamus, which exhibits in his broad smile the perfection of his gold filled teeth.

It is a sort of a habit with the big beast to put on his ready made smile the moment he sees a photographer, for visits of photographers to him are so frequent that he knows a cameraman the moment one appears within 30 feet of him.

"Jimmie said to be the smallest hippo in captivity, is also here. Jimmie is six years of age, full grown and weighs less than 400 pounds while Nogo weighs almost four times that. Jimmie is of the variety known as pygmy and he comes from Madagascar. There is but one like him in this country, the other being in the Bronx Zoo, New York. He, however, is somewhat heavier than Jimmie.

NEW PASTOR TO BE INSTALLED

Rev. Schreckenberg Will Give Charge to New London Congregation

The Rev. F. L. Schreckenberg of Trinity English Lutheran church is to give the charge to the congregation at Holy Trinity English Lutheran church at New London Sunday evening when the Rev. Carl Schneider, newly ordained minister, will be installed pastor of the church. The Rev. William C. Drahm of St. John church at Oshkosh, is to give the charge to the new pastor and will also have charge of the installation. A large number of members of the local congregation are planning to attend the service. The local Junior choir and a trio from the Senior choir will sing. Members of the Junior choir are to meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the church for a final rehearsal of music to be sung Sunday night.

How to make Raspberry Jam keep the color and flavor of the fresh berries

Here is an easy new way to make perfect raspberry jam without cooking away the luscious fresh flavor of your berries and their beautiful bright color.

With Certo you do not have to "boil your fruit down." One or two minutes' boiling is enough to give a perfect, tender jelly. You cannot have a failure and you get half again more jam from your fruit because you save the juice instead of cooking it away.

Crush thoroughly about 2 quarts ripe berries. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into a large kettle, add 6 1/2 level cups (2 1/2 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 1 minute, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 cup Certo. Stir and stir repeatedly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot melted paraffin.

A book of nearly 100 recipes for all sorts of delicious jams and jellies comes with each bottle of Certo. Your grocer, Certo, or you can send 10c (for postage) and get a trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address Douglas-Pectin Corporation, 3655 Granite Building, Rochester, N. Y. adv.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewster, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman." With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren. Take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good. Thousands of women past fifty say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PAPERMILLS MAY BE FORCED TO MOVE TO CANADA

Radsch Tells Kiwanians That Raw Material Supply Is Being Depleted

"Paper mills of this country are using raw material supply so rapidly that it probably is only a question of time before it will be necessary to go to Canada for our timber and probably many paper mills will be forced to make their headquarters there," R. M. Radsch, Kaukauna, said in an address to Appleton Kiwanis club at the weekly meeting Wednesday noon at Conway hotel. Mr. Radsch is the superintendent of the Thimany Pulp and Paper company of Kaukauna. Mr. Radsch traced the history of paper making from prehistoric times and explained how the waste probably was the first paper maker, but that it was left for man to improve on its crude manufacturing process.

He elaborated on the manufacture of sulphate pulp and told of the expensive process which is used. He said that a brother of Mr. Thimany probably was the first man in the United States to use this method. He said that the new process used in making sulphate pulp was a boon to southern land owners because southern pine can be used to make pulp.

200 CHANGES IN REVENUE SYSTEM ARE SUGGESTED

Almost Every Phase of Taxation Covered in Recommendations to Committee

Madison —(P)— Two hundred or more different proposals have been made to the legislative interim committee on administration and taxation for changes in the revenue producing system of Wisconsin.

The suggestions, tabulated for the committee by E. E. Witts, chief of the legislative reference library, cover almost every phase of taxation and represent a multitude of ideas, some directly opposed to others. The summary was prepared for use by the committee when it drafts its recommendations for the next legislature.

The income and personal property taxes were the basis for a larger proportion of proposals than any other.

Changes which should be made in the income tax, in the opinion of persons who appeared before the committee, include:

Restoration of the personal property tax offset, increase in exemptions, reduction in exemptions, a filing fee for every person with an income, restoration of the secrecy rates, taxation of stock dividends, exemption of stock dividends from taxation, levy of different rates on different kinds of income with a higher rate on intangible or on monopolistic incomes, restoration of the secrecy clause, and finally repeal of the entire law.

VIEWS ARE DIFFERENT

There likewise was a wide divergence of views as to the classes of personal property now taxable which should be exempt from taxation. Some thought the personal property tax should be eliminated, while others exempting 5 per cent of all personal property, automobiles all property except automobiles, merchants' and manufacturers' stocks, banks, one radio outfit in each home, ornaments and jewelry, or agricultural equipment. Some were against any further exemptions.

The committee was told it should advocate a bill for the taxation of land values, that farm values should be exempt from real estate taxation and that the homestead exemption should be restored.

Some persons thought that all exemptions from real estate taxes should be repealed, and some thought the exemption of property used for religious, charitable and fraternal purposes should be eliminated.

Regarding the inheritance tax, the committee heard that local units or government should be given a larger share, that the receipts should be placed in the permanent school fund, that the entire tax should be repealed, that rates should be reduced, exemptions increased and gifts made taxable under a separate law or as income.

There were ten suggestions for changing the system of taxing railroads, but a representative of one of the leading roads approved the present law. Regarding other utilities, it was suggested among other things that the tax commission assess all on an equal basis and tax them at the local rate, or at average state rates.

It was conceded that the constitution must be amended to allow special classification of forest and mineral lands before tax relief could be given them. Other suggestions for taxation of such lands included exemption of growing timber and a very low rate on the lands with a severance tax when the timber is cut.

Banks wanted to be placed under the income tax, while other interests suggested retaining the ad valorem taxation of bank stock.

REDUCE CAR FEES

The committee was told that automobile license fees should be reduced and the gasoline tax increased, or that the licenses should be issued for five year periods, or that the fees should be increased, as well as the gasoline tax. Some recommended a

MANY FARMERS IMPROVE BARN

Additions to Old Buildings and Construction of New Ones Nearing Completion

Numerous farm improvements are being made throughout Outagamie county. They include construction of or additions to barns and other buildings, the erection of silos, remodeling and painting houses, etc.

Leo Hegner, route 3, is completing a large new barn this week. About 25 or 30 men were present at a "barn raising bee" Monday on the farm to help raise the heavy timbers and put on the roof of the new structure.

James Varnish, route 2, has remodeled his large stock barn, by putting in a new basement which is fully equipped to house his blooded stock, with many new conveniences.

A new hog pen, about 20 to 30 feet in dimensions, is being built this week by Charles Kohl, route 3, whose farm is located on the school section road in the town of Grand Chute.

J. J. Taylor, route 4, on the Mason road in the town of Grand Chute, has recently remodeled and repainted the outside of his farm home.

A new sun parlor has been added to the home of Benjamin Krueger, route 5. Mr. Krueger lately has added a number of improvements to his home.

Martin Sommers, route 4, has built a new porch as an addition to his home in the town of Center.

flat license fee of $10, and the suggestions for gasoline tax ranged from 2 cents to 5 cents per gallon.

It was proposed that local tax assessors be abolished and county assessors picked by the county boards be substituted, that taxes be paid semi-annually, that stronger provisions be made for collecting delinquent taxes, that all taxes be shifted gradually to real estate, and that the uniformity clause in the state constitution be repealed and the classification of property allowed.

Several new taxes were proposed, including levies on cigars, luxuries and theater admissions, a sales tax, with an income tax offset.

MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE

No more opportune time could be found than this, when people of Appleton are debating parks and park financing preparatory to the special park bond issue election next Tuesday, for considering a municipal golf links for Appleton.

Appleton will have a municipal golf course sooner or later, there is no gain saying that. The time is coming, and coming soon, when the people will vociferously demand a city course where they may indulge in the tremendously popular game without the heavy "overhead" expense entailed by membership in private clubs.

Every week, almost every day, new converts are made by golf and every new addit converts another. There are in Appleton right now probably several hundred men and women, who, having read much about golf, want to try it but are barred because of the expense and restriction which must obtain on privately owned courses.

Golf, while expensive if played on private courses because of the high maintenance cost compared with the relatively small number who pay the charges, no longer can be considered a rich man's game. It is as much sport for the humblest as for the mightiest and the poor man has as much right to its advantage of health and recreation as the wealthy man. It is the game of the masses in the cities and it soon will be in Appleton. But the masses must have a place to play. A municipally owned course is the way out for them.

A city owned course does not present serious difficulties in Appleton. It has a park property which can be converted at a relatively small expenditure into a first class course. It is advantageously located in a section of the Fourth ward where property values are not extremely high and no doubt additional land can be acquired at a reasonable cost for enlargement of the course when that becomes necessary. No expense is involved in acquiring property for a course: the only expenditure required is for building and maintenance.

Investigation has disclosed that a nine-hole course, with good greens and plenty of hazards, can be constructed on the property for $10,000 or less. It seems to us that it would be more appropriate to use $10,000 of the proposed $50,000 park bond issue for a municipal golf links than for building a dance hall in Pierce park. The people would get something worth while for their money in a golf course: a dance hall erected to satisfy a whim rather than to meet a need would be a dead loss to the city. It would benefit no one. A golf course on the other hand has potentialities for health and clean recreation that cannot be estimated.

Experience of other cities with municipal golf links proves conclusively that they do not cost the taxpayers anything after they are constructed. In many cities the nominal fee of from 25 to 50 cents is sufficient not only to maintain the course but to provide funds for enlargement. This will be true in Appleton also for there are few cities where golf is as popular as here.

The park board should, by all means, take action toward a municipal golf course. We believe it deserves more consideration than a dance hall.

ANOTHER DEBT SETTLEMENT

France has completed her debt settlement with Great Britain. The details appear to be pleasing to the French nation, and particularly to Finance Minister Caillaux, who negotiated them. The terms are easier than those in the settlement made with America, but are not all that were sought. Contrary to expectations, there is no safe-guarding clause in the agreement itself, although it is said letters have been exchanged between the two governments, making it clear that in the event of default in Germany's reparation payment, France will be entitled to ask for a re-opening of the arrangement.

The terms of the settlement are of less importance than the fact that the debts have been funded. How the disposition of the debts will be received by the chamber of deputies and by the French people is an important question, for upon the answer to it depends the continuation of the Briand government, of which Caillaux is so important a part. If the chamber of deputies is wise, it will promptly ratify the agreement and give the government a vote of confidence in its financial program.

The fiscal plight of France is desperate. She has reached the parting of the ways. There is nothing but dead rock ahead of her in the path she has been pursuing. She must right-about-face and proceed to stabilize her currency. This can be done only by stopping all further paper issues, by settling her obligations to the United States and balancing her budget. It is folly to suggest any other way out of the dilemma, for there is none. The more her politicians beat around the bush and delay or obstruct what is obviously required of the government, the worse things will continue to grow and the lower the franc will descend. Caillaux's program should be ratified regardless of whether he obtains further concessions from the United States, which it is morally certain he will not obtain.

BANKERS' FOREIGN LOANS

Loans which have been made by American bankers to Europe and other parts of the world have been indorsed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as a benefit to the United States as well as to the countries which received the advances. This is in direct contradiction of the quite prevalent opinion that foreign loans have no beneficial effect, except to the bankers themselves and that the continual lending of money induces these foreign countries to forget the necessity of thrift in the conduct of their business.

Secretary Mellon, however, claims that "the loans will prove of benefit to the countries which received them and also to the United States, for it will strengthen the trade between those countries and our own. The fact that the loans have been made shows that Europe is buying more goods from us."

As a matter of fact, many of the advances made by the American bankers were in purchases of bonds issued by cities in France for rehabilitation purposes. The bonds are a good investment, not so much because of their intrinsic value, but because their issuance indicates the intention of the municipalities to rebuild, and this promises additional markets for American trade.

There is no doubt that, despite recent setbacks, the economic rehabilitation of Europe is imminent and the re-establishment of the countries of that continent as America's best customers is a matter of the very near future. Stabilization of the French franc, for instance, will come just as soon as the French debts to the United States are settled and France's budget is balanced.

In the matter of foreign loans it is not possible to have a narrow or constricted viewpoint. We cannot look at today, or tomorrow, but at the distant future and we must have faith, that, with intelligent financial help, the countries of the world can be put on a firm basis for the economic advancement of everyone.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

The youngster donned his oldest clothes. With pall beneath his arm, he hit the country roadway. He was headin' for a farm. A couple miles, or maybe more, but, shucks, he didn't care. He lugged the rail along because a cherry tree was there. It's funny how a little boy kin shinnny up a tree. So, there we find him sittin' jes' as happy as kin be. He'd pick a few, then, shake a branch, an' watch the cherries fall. He'd eat the largest, reddest ones. The rest went in the pail. In maybe 'bout an hour or so a hefty load is found. The pail is filled up to the brim. The kid's down on the ground. A whistlin' sorta cheerful, like a hobo on a roam, the cherrypickin' youngster now is headin' back fer home. He rushes in the kitchen, an' he shouts, real loud "Oh maw! I've got the finest cherries that a feller ever saw. Course mother tells him, "Well, that's neat." The heavens a tremors' with, "But, sonny, winst! That night they have a luscious cherry pie."

HOW TO WIN THE BATTLE

Every little while a correspondent tells me he has noticed in my column some mention of a book or pamphlet entitled How I Cured Myself of Tuberculosis, or something like that, and asks me where he may obtain such a book or pamphlet. I know of no such book or pamphlet, and I should certainly not recommend such a book or pamphlet if I knew of one.

I have mentioned here, and recommend as a most valuable and helpful piece of health literature an article by J. E. Stocker, which was published in the journal of the Outdoor Life and subsequently issued as a reprint or pamphlet by the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit and Wayne county, 315 East Jefferson avenue, Detroit, Mich. The title of Mr. Stocker's great contribution to the cause of recovery is "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home." Residents of Wayne county may obtain copies from the society free; others must pay 5 cents for a copy.

"How I Won the Battle" is a very different thing from the title which so many correspondents suggest when asking about this.

If any one has tuberculosis and means to recover he must wage a battle, and it requires burning plan and carry out a battle. The tuberculosis patient who starts out with any fool notion of trying to "cure himself" has lost the battle before he has learned to right. Mr. Stocker won the battle. He recovered, in his own home, to be sure, but he did not "cure himself." He had brains. He chose a good physician and then obeyed the physician's advice in everything—not merely about medicine, but about rest, air, climate, food, visitors, everything. Mr. Stocker recovered and has remained well for several years. He never fancied he could "cure himself."

My doctor approved the treatment as I have outlined it; he mentions at one point in his story. But he mentions that he learned from some books in the public library how important rest is in the battle with tuberculosis and tells how "the instructions of my physician to rest fell far short of making me realize the real meaning of rest and the amount of rest required for successful treatment of tuberculosis."

Just what the books were, Mr. Stocker does not indicate in the reprints of his article. I should suggest these books as among the best for the tuberculosis patient.

"Rules for Recovery From Tuberculosis," by Dr. Lawson Brown, published by Lea & Febiger, New York.

"Recovery Record," by Drs. Gerald B. Webb and Charles T. Ryder, published by Paul B. Hoeber, Inc., New York.

"Lessons on Tuberculosis and Consumption," by Dr. Charles E. Atkinson, published by Funk & Wagnalls company, New York.

In his book Doctor Brown warns against over-eating or trying to get fat.

In their book Doctors Webb and Ryder warn against wearing more clothing than is really necessary for comfort.

In his book Doctor Atkinson warns against the dangers of such evasive terms as "weak lungs" or "threatened with tuberculosis."

These are merely random ideas. All three books are packed full of the soundest and simplest information and advice.

I think Mr. Stocker's story, being the actual history of his battle, should be an inspiration and a source of consolation for any one who dares to fight the battle at home. Not in so many words, but in the spirit of his narrative, Mr. Stocker warns against the still too common mistake of "going west" in a wild goose chase after a "better climate."

Conical Cornua

Kindly indicate the most common causes of conical cornua of the eye. (S. M.)

Answer—This is a noninflammatory protrusion of the clear coat of the eyeball over the pupil's sight, from turning of the clear coat here and the pressure within the eyeball. It is generally seen in young women. It causes near sightedness and astigmatism. The oculists have not quite determined the cause or nature of this condition.

The Question Box

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

This department is one place where all the questions from those of the child to those of his elders are answered with care and dispatch. The mother who wants to know about the latest styles in sweaters, the boy who wants to know how to make a bird-house, or the man who wants specific instructions about using concrete around the home are all given the same degree of expert instruction and information. We can share only a small part of these interesting questions with our readers but we conduct an intimate, personal service by mail. Send your question, with two cents in stamps for return postage, to The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. When was the house at Arlington built? P. N. B.

A. The house with the pillared porch was built by George Washington Parke Outis, grandson of Mrs. George Washington, in 1803.

Q. What is meant by the international alphabet? D. E. H.

A. It is a scheme used in the teaching of Romance languages. Some typewriters are equipped with a keyboard hearing these characters.

Q. Which is the more profitable product grown in greenhouses, flowers or vegetables? M. E. H.

A. Statistics show that the value of flowers grown in greenhouses is about four times that of the value of vegetables.

Q. Do Indians have titles to their lands so they can sell them and give clear titles? J. E. S.

A. The Indians of Oklahoma are free citizens and they sell their lands as they wish. Government agents are stationed at other Indian reservations to act as intermediaries between the Indians and purchasers of their lands and they endeavor to obtain fair prices for these lands. This service is given only on the request of the Indians.

Q. Where and what is the "Trench of Bayonets"? J. G. M.

A. The Trench of Bayonets is located near Verdun. At the time of the attack on Verdun, the French were in defense of the city. The French troops were about to charge with the bayonets and were about to surmount the trench when a German shell exploded and buried the French unit, leaving only the tops of their bayonets showing above the mud.

Q. What is meant by slash in timber lands? M. A. B.

A. This is a term used for the branches, tops, and other debris left on the ground after logging operations.

Q. Is the term Oceania, Oceania, or Oceania correct? H. L. M.

A. All three names are accepted as correct designations for the countries included within the term.

Q. Is saccharine used in sweetening pickles? S. O. D.

A. The use of saccharine in the commercial manufacture of pickles is not allowed in the United States, according to the Federal Food and Drugs Act.

Q. What is used to make loose ivory faces stick on piano keys? K. M. S.

A. Piano dealers use a cement in repairing piano keys, the ivory coverings of which have become loosened.

Q. What is the distance by rail from Washington to Philadelphia? G. M.

A. The first distance according to available tables which have been compiled is 137 miles. From Philadelphia to New York is 91 miles.

Q. Is Queen Isabella's jewel casket still in existence? M. K.

A. You doubtless refer to the one which was the repository for the jewels pawned by the Queen to finance Columbus' voyage. This is in existence and will be sent by the

Adventures In The Library

"NOTORIOUS LITERARY ATTACKS"

A writer named Albert Mordell has published a book called "Notorious Literary Attacks" in which he tells the story of the savage onslaughts that have been made at the time of their appearance on some of the most famous books in literature. The great books have always been forced to run the gauntlet of fools and vicious men and there are plenty of volumes against which no one today would dare to raise a voice which were damned roundly in their own day.

One of the most interesting examples that Mordell cites is "The Scarlet Letter." Imagine anyone attacking "The Scarlet Letter" today because it is immoral! It has formed the theme of a thousand sermons. It has now and then been attacked because it is too moral. It has been listed by some as the greatest work of fiction that has yet been produced in America. It is almost a sermon in itself.

But in its own day a savage attack was made on it by an anonymous writer on the score of immorality. He said that the book would bring the blush of shame to the cheeks of innocent young girls. He admitted that it was well written but he said that for that very reason it was all the more dangerous. He deplored the fact that Hawthorne had put his great talents to so base use as to treat the theme of adultery and to add insult to injury by making the adulterer a Puritan minister of the gospel. Hawthorne was casting unworthy aspersions on the cloth not only but on the Puritan as well.

Today that attack reads like the vapors of a fool, but to day exactly what same kind of attack is made in exactly the same kind of way on books no less worthy in intention even if less worthy in artistry, than "The Scarlet Letter."

Another famous attack described by Mordell is that made on the poems of John Keats. Byron charged that the Scottish reviewers killed John Keats, which is untrue. But they were savage enough to kill anyone who had less stamina and self-assurance than Keats. This attack was inspired by political rancor and it was not later criticism in the true sense at all Keats had become associated with a crowd that was politically opposed to the crowd that controlled the reviews, and so one of the greatest poets of all time was treated with less consideration than a horse thief. An the pity of it is that he died before the world woke up to the fact that the reviewers were wrong and the Keats was a great poet.

Thomas Hardy's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" was made the subject of a savage attack by Andrew Lan when it first appeared. "Andrew Lan" is today somewhat faintly remembered as a rather colorless literary hack worker but he was a living power in his day. He was listened to and there were thousands who took his dictum as gospel.

"Tess" to day is among the immortals in literature and it has a good chance to remain there. "Tess" review does not harm "Tess" today. It only makes Lan ridiculous. But at the time of publication the attack was a very serious matter to Thomas Hardy. It was probably one of the things that caused him to quit writing novels long before his period of productivity had ended.

Probably the most notorious of the reviewers who have tried to slaughter books that later became classics was Lockhart, the son-in-law of Sir Walter Scott. Lockhart attacked Keats and Shelley and Leigh Hunt and a number of others. And his attacks were no savage and no unrestrained that they have become classic. Lockhart was a young man at the time and he lived long enough to see his judgments reversed. I must have been a bitter pill for him in later years to find the men he had attacked for political reasons listed as classics in English literature. All the more remarkable is Lockhart's case because he was by no means a fool. As a biographer he attained greatness. His life of Walter Scott is one of the few great biographies of the few great biographies of the constitutes literature. But politics betrayed him and blinded him to the greatness of great poets.

"Notorious Literary Attacks" shows how great literature is often produced in an atmosphere of controversy and bitterness and not in the atmosphere of awe in which it is studied in the class room.

Eagles Plan Stag Party On August 1

Plans for a stag party for members of Fraternal Order of Eagles and a report on the annual children's picnic to be held Aug. 8 at Pierce park was the principal business at the meeting Wednesday night. The stag party will be held Aug. 1 at Stroebe island. Further plans for the party will be made at the meeting next Wednesday.

The committee in charge of the children's picnic reported that all children of Eagles and their parents are to meet at 1 o'clock on Aug. 8 at Eagle hall. The children will be taken to the park in trucks and the parents will march to the park, led by the Eagle drum and bugle corps. The children will be provided with free tickets for ice cream, candy, peanuts, soft drinks and each child will be given an American flag.

Final plans for the events will be made at a meeting of the picnic committee next Monday night. The committee consists of Andrew Schiltz, Roy Koester, Neils Gallepeau, Henry Stead and Charles Schrimpf. A committee of members of the auxiliary are assisting the men with arrangements for the picnic. They are Mrs. John Abendroth, Mrs. Clarence Currie, Mrs. Henry Harp, Mrs. Andrew Schiltz, Mrs. Edward Tornow, Mrs. Peter Rademacher, Mrs. Henry Koester.

SHARP DROP IN MELLON PRICES

Strawberry Season Ends as Raspberries Reach Local Market

Georgia watermelons dropped in price since last week from over $1 apiece to from 45 to 75 cents apiece on the Appleton market. Home grown cherries were selling at 15 cents a box, and from $2.50 to $2.80 per crate. These berries are fine for canning purposes, and more people are buying cherries than for years, according to dealers, because the price is low and the cherries are extra good.

The strawberry season is nearly ended and the few berries still on the market are selling at about 30 cents a quart. Fresh peaches are selling at from 15 to 25 cents per dozen and plums are retailing at from 10 to 25 cents a dozen and from 75 to 85 cents per box.

Fresh raspberries were brought to the Appleton market Wednesday by several Outagamie-co farmers. The berries are of the early type and retailed at 50 cents per quart. Raspberries will be plentiful this year, it is said.

Pineapples are selling at 20 cents apiece and cantelopes at from 2 for a quarter to 20 cents apiece. Fresh green California grapes cost 20 cents a pound. Black eating cherries sell at 25 cents a pound.

Apples from the early southern orchards are selling at two pounds for a quarter. Oranges retailed at from 25 to 50 cents per dozen. Bananas are selling at from three pounds for a quarter to 10 cents a pound and lemons are selling at about 35 cents a dozen.

WHEN ONE DIES THEY'LL DRINK THE WINE

When one of the three men shown above dies, the other two will drink the wine that they're exhibiting. These are the only remaining members of the Last Man Club, formed in 1885 by 34 Civil War veterans, who bought a bottle of wine and agreed that the last man should drink it. Now, with only three men left, they have agreed that the last two men must drink. The Volestead act, incidentally, hasn't cramped their plans at all. Left to right they are John S. Goff, Peter Hall and Charles Liskwood. They held their annual banquet July 21 at Stillwater, Minn.

the congregation does shower down when the collection plate is passed.

"Yes, we do take in thousands of dollars at our meetings," says Mrs. McPherson. "But we need all of it. The running expenses of the Temple are about $11,000 a day. The remainder of the money is used for our radio department to broadcast my sermons, and for the Bible school and the seven-story hotel I am building."

CONVERTED HALF MILLION

She points out that the Temple has 25,000 members and that she, single-handed, has converted half a million people.

Mrs. McPherson also at various times has practiced divine healing, and many of her converts believe she has the power to heal through prayer and the laying on of hands.

She preaches what she calls "the four square gospel," bitterly attacking evolutionists and all other groups that are not inclined to believe in orthodox religion.

In addition, she has turned her oratory against all forms of vice. She has been particularly bitter against the dance halls and the use of dope.

BLAMES THE DEVIL

This has angered not only many unholly people, but has aroused even the devil himself, she says. And that, she says, explains her recent kidnapping—an experience concerning which police and newspaper investigators have expressed some doubts.

The devil decided to swoop down on The Under Shepherd—that is the way she refers to herself—so he called all his wolves. That is how she expresses it.

But he was foiled, for she has returned to her flock, greeted by 100,000 people when she got off the train. She has returned to "my humble home," than which no movie star can boast a more elaborate one. She has returned to plan a world revival tour, which will be helped along tremendously by the publicity her kidnapping got her.

Woman Evangelist Makes A Million By Preaching

BY DAN THOMAS

(Copyright, 1926, Post Pub. Co.)

Los Angeles—The world may be growing worse, as some people think, but it is willing to pay very well for its religion, anyway.

If you doubt it, read the story of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson's remarkable rise to fame.

Three and one-half years ago she came to Los Angeles, unheralded and unknown, possessed of a great deal of faith, a burning ambition and very little ready cash.

Today she is worth more than a million dollars.

And besides being wealthy, she has made herself one of the best known evangelists in the whole world. Few business men have made such a success in such a short time.

BARNUM SHOWMANSHIP

Mrs. McPherson has been preaching the gospel with the fervor of a John the Baptist and the astute instinct for showmanship of a P. T. Barnum.

And Los Angeles, if it hasn't given over all of its worldly ways, has at least responded enough to make her a millionaire and build for her the great Angelus Temple—a tremendous auditorium that looks like some sumptuous theater and that numbers thousands of members in its congregation.

The church property with its powerful radio broadcasting station, is valued at about $1,000,000.

But that is getting a little ahead of the story.

Mrs. McPherson was born 37 years ago on a bleak Canadian farm, which was chronically mortgaged.

At the age of 17 she ran away from home, she says, "to do the work of the Lord." This work led her to marriage with Robert Semple, who went to China as a missionary. She went with him, and their daughter, Roberta, was born shortly before Semple died.

MARRIED AGAIN

Back to America came Mrs. Semple, to marry Harold McPherson, a few years later. They lived in New York, where their son, Rolf, was born.

Three and one-half years ago, Mrs. McPherson says she had a "visit from the Holy Ghost."

This divine visitor told her, she relates, to go out into the world and spread the teachings of God. Saying nothing to her husband, she went out of his life, landing a little later in Los Angeles with her son, her daughter and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

At first Mrs. McPherson presided over meetings that had a sort of Salvation Army tinge. But converts grew in number and generosity, and last year the great Angelus Temple was reared.

This temple is, to say the least, quite a place. It is richly finished, both without and within.

A 50-piece, silver cornet band furnishes music. The choir is garbed in white robes. Mrs. McPherson, clad in a white uniform with a blue cape, speaks from a lofty pulpit. The place will seat thousands, and it is always crowded when she preaches. And how

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE OF 29 IN YEARMore Girls Than Boys of School Age in Kaukauna
This Year

Kaukauna—There are 2,255 children of school age in the city of Kaukauna and joint school district No. 2 according to the school census just completed by J. J. Haas. In 1925 there were 2,224, a gain of 29 children in a year. The school district includes all of the city of Kaukauna, part of the town of Kaukauna, part of the town of VandenBroek and part of the village of Little Chute.

Of the total for 1926, 1,112 are boys and 1,141 are girls. In 1925 there were 42 more girls than there were boys in the district.

On the north side of Kaukauna there are 511 boys of school age and 519 girls, a total of 1,030. This is two less than there were in 1925 when there was a total of 1,032. Of that number that year 507 were boys and 525 were girls.

This year there are 1,090 children of school age on the south side, or 60 more than on the north side. Five hundred and thirty-two of these children are boys and 558 are girls. In 1925 there was a total of 1,030 children on the south side or ten less than there are this year. Of this number 527 were boys and 503 were girls. The total number of boys in the city in 1925 was 1,054 and in 1926 was 1,043, an increase of 9. The number of girls decreased by one. This makes a total of 2,120 children of school age in the city this year, eight more than there were last year when there was 2,112.

In the part of the town of Kaukauna that the school district there are 15 boys of school age and 14 girls. In 1925 there were 14 boys and 18 girls. The total has decreased from 32 to 29. The village of Little Chute shows a gain of 16. In 1925 there were 34 children, 15 boys and 19 girls. This year there are 23 girls and 27 boys. The town of VandenBroek shows a gain of 7 from 46 in 1925 to 53 in 1926. This year there were 30 boys and 23 girls and last year there were 25 boys and 21 girls.

BERENS TAKES LEAD
IN TENNIS TOURNEY

Kaukauna—Alphonse Berens, 1925 city tennis champion, won two matches Wednesday evening to take the lead in the Kaukauna Tennis club singles tournament. In the first match he met George Boyd and won two straight sets 6-1 and 6-2. He defeated Harvey Dix in the second match of the same count.

Edward Houtling won by default from A. Michel 6-0 and 6-0. Robert Brooks defeated William Asch in straight sets 6-2 and 6-3.

NEW LONDON WOMAN SERIOUSLY ILL IN WEST

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Friends of Miss Susan Dixon were notified she is seriously ill in Los Angeles, Calif. A letter to friends in this city stated that her death was expected momentarily.

Miss Dixon has long been popular in church and social circles of the city, and her beautiful old home which was dismantled only recently was one of the landmarks of this community.

Miss Dixon sold a large wooded tract of land on which the old Dixon home stood, to the city three years ago. The site is now being used as a public playground and is intended later for the location of New London's new high school. Miss Dixon, soon after leaving her home contracted an illness from which she has never recovered. She is a member of the Congregational church of the Eastern Star, of the Women's Study club and other civic and social groups. Since leaving New London two years ago she has been at home with relatives in California.

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Miss Melda Felzer and Miss Loraine Knapstein were guests at an evening of bridge at which Mrs. Milton A. Ullerich, Derr-st. was hostess on Wednesday evening. Miss Knapstein will marry Walter Kadell of Chicago on Saturday afternoon after noon, July 17.

Floral decorations in profusion were used in decoration of the rooms. Floor vases of daisies, larkspur and hollyhocks were intermingled with smaller bouquets. The rooms were lighted with candle light. Three tables of bridge were in play and high honors went to Mrs. George Lea and Mrs. George Polzin. Colonial bouquets were presented each guest preceding the serving of refreshments. Among the guests was Mrs. R. F. Schwaba of Hortonville.

The annual outing of the Congregational Ladies aid society was held on Wednesday at Bear Lake. The attendance was large. Picnic suppers were spread beside the lake.

On Tuesday evening Mr. James Frame was the surprised hostess to a small group of her intimate friends and neighbors. Five hundred were played at which Mrs. Jack Burk of Dodgeville won high honors and Mrs. Herman Ludwig won consolation prize.

WAR VETERANS ELECT CONVENTION DELEGATE

New London—The Norris-Spencer Post of the American Legion held a meeting on Tuesday evening to elect delegates to the joint convention of the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary at La Crosse August 26, 27 and 28.

Edward Brown was chosen delegate. At a recent meeting of the Legion Auxiliary the following delegates were elected: Mrs. Leonard Mankie, Mrs. S. E. Therns and Mrs. Herman Ludwig. Mrs. Frank Herres, Mrs. F. S. Loss and Mrs. A. G. Alstein were chosen as alternates.

LEGION BUGLE CORPS GIVES DANCING PARTY

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Fife and Bugle corps of the American Legion will give the second of their pavilion dances on Friday evening at Bear Lake. This dance will be a combination of new and old dances. William Ma rasch, veteran dance caller, will preside over the dances of the old vintage. At Hanson's orchestra will furnish music. The proceeds will go in the fund to purchase band uniforms. The Fife and Bugle corps is under the direction of D. C. Blisset and has an enrollment of twenty-seven members.

DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEART

STAGE AND SCREEN

JUDGMENT OF FILM

SOLONS JUSTIFIED
Josef von Sternberg, the producing director of "The Salvation Hunters," has justified the judgment of officials of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios who signed this interesting young man to a long-term contract because they believed him to be one of the greatest directorial geniuses of the screen.

Von Sternberg's "The Exquisite Sinner," his initial film for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is showing at the Elite Theatre today and Friday.

It is the direct opposite of all in "The Salvation Hunters" inasmuch as it moves with a speedy tempo and is a mass of color as against drabness and slow tempo of "The Salvation Hunters."

"The Exquisite Sinner" is said to prove that von Sternberg is not only a master director but a master cameraman and story-teller. His technique and dramatic treatment, as well as development of characters, is totally different from any other director.

His latest picture is a screen adaptation of Alden Brooks' novel, "Esquimaux," and is a satirical study in psychology.

It is the story of an aristocratic young Frenchman who is soul-weary and who breaks all social conventions and severs all family ties in an effort to tear away from a matter-of-fact existence and plunge into the unlight of romance.

The story is interpreted by a large cast, which includes: Conrad Nagel, Renee Adoree, Paulette Goddard, Frank Currier, George K. Arthur, Matthew Betz, Helena D'Alsy and Claire DuBrey.

"ALOMA OF THE SOUTH SEAS"

Gilda Gray, the American theatre's most picturesque figure, who some months ago signed a contract to star in Paramount features, has just finished her first film. It was adapted from "Aloma of the South Seas," a play which enjoyed great popularity on Broadway. The picture comes to the Fischers Appleton on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday next.

At the time the contract was negotiated, Jesse L. Lasky, First Vice-President in charge of production for Paramount, released the following statement:

"In Gilda Gray, we feel we have signed one of the greatest box office attractions the stage has developed in the past decade. Her popularity is phenomenal. In a single week at the Metropolitan Theatre in Los Angeles, she drew $49,000 to the cash drawer. The reason for this amazing popularity lies in but one thing: her equally amazing personality. We have subjected Miss Gray to a series of rigorous tests, and discovered that the same magnetism which attracted millions of the country over, will be found in her pictures."

A top-notch cast, including: Percy Marmont, Warner Baxter, Julian Johnston and William Powell are featured in Miss Gray's support. Maurice Tourneur, noted for his colorful tropical films, particularly "Never the Twain Shall Meet," directed.

Also Vincent Carr and his gang, in a half hour musical treat.

"RUSTLING FOR CUPID"

George O'Brien, who has the masculine lead in "Rustling for Cupid," Fox Film latest release at the New Bijou three days starting today, was light heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast while he was in the navy during the war, and in selecting the cast for this Peter B. Kyne drama of New Mexico ranch life, especial attention was given to the character of Jack Mason.

O'Brien has the role of Brad Blatchford and Blatchford has a terrific fight with Mason. Sid Jordan, who has rivaled practically every star in the films a battle during his Hollywood career, was finally selected to take the part of Mason. This insured a real battle.

When the fight was staged on location it was the "main event" and every man along that section of the border assembled to watch the mill.

The battle proved all that the "advance agents" had claimed for it and both O'Brien and Jordan had to take a day off to recover.

Antia Stewart has the feminine lead and others in the cast are Russell Simpson, Edith Yorke, Herbert Prior, and Frank McGlynn, Jr.

Eagles on United States currency were copied from birds in the National Zoo.

THE PROUD JONES FAMILY

It was a big day for Jones family of Atlanta, when Bobby came back from England, the first American amateur ever to win the British Open Golf Championship. Here they are meeting him on the Aquitania. Left to right: R. T. Jones, his grandfather; R. P. Jones, the golfer's father; Mrs. R. T. Jones, his grandmother; Mrs. Bobby Jones, Bobby himself, and his mother, Mrs. R. P. Jones.

"Daredevil's" Plane Crashes Into Automobile

A large roadster, owned by an Appleton man, whose name was not learned, was damaged in a collision with an airplane owned by "Daredevil Joe" Smith about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a field several miles west of this city.

"Daredevil Joe" had arrived from Milwaukee and landed in the field and a large crowd of "curious" people immediately gathered. Joe, alone, attempted to start the plane by turning the propeller and then get into the seat before it could get away but he wasn't quite quick enough. He started the motor and the plane started off without him, and running along the field, gathered speed every foot. It crashed into the side of the car, parked near the fence and the propeller smashed the top. Joe settled with the driver at once and he went away apparently satisfied.

Joe said Thursday he came back to Appleton because he liked the town and its people and because he wanted to quiet the rumors that he had been killed.

Joe was supposed to have fallen in attempting to jump from one plane to another in the air and he also was said to have been killed in an accident during an endurance run at Wausau. Joe said it is probable he will do some stunt flying in Appleton.

KELLER TALKS TO JEWELERS

Appleton Traces 20 Year History of State Association

Gustave Keller Sr., a director of the Wisconsin Retail Jewelers association, spoke to about 200 members of the association on Reminiscences at a banquet Thursday evening in Hotel Northland, Green Bay, which closed the two day convention of the state association. The convention marked the twentieth anniversary of the organization and Mr. Keller's talk traced its history during the two decades.

Those attending the convention from here were Frank Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kamps, William H. Hackleman and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marx. Officers were all reelected. They are H. P. Vandenberg, Eau Claire, president; A. C. Hentschell, Milwaukee, vice president; A. W. Anderson, Neenah, secretary; Henry F. Stecher, Milwaukee, treasurer; William H. Upmeyer, Milwaukee; Thomas J. Dale, Kenosha and L. M. Nelson, Madison, trustees.

The next convention will be held in Milwaukee and it is hoped to bring the convention of the National Retail Jewelers association to that city to meet immediately after the state convention. Conrad J. Brothert, Newark, N. J., president of the national association was one of the speakers at Green Bay.

LEAVE MONDAY FOR ORCHARDS

Cherry Pickers Getting Ready for Annual Trek to Sturgeon Bay

About 80 Appleton boys will leave Monday morning for Camp Chac at Sturgeon Bay, the boys cherry picking camp. The boys will leave on the Chicago and Northwestern railway for Green Bay where they will take a special train on the Green Bay and Western line to Sturgeon Bay.

About 35 Kaukauna youths, and many from Neenah, Menasha and Little Chute will attend the camp. The original date for opening of camp was Tuesday, July 6, but it was necessary to delay the opening until July 13.

C. Willard Cross, Appleton, will be in charge of camp. More than 300 boys from about 45 Wisconsin cities are enrolled. The cherry crop this year is said to be one of the finest in years.

Henrietta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schilling, has been returned to her home from St. Elizabeth hospital, where she has been confined for some time.

HISTORICAL FILM HOLDS APPEAL

Paramount Chief Says Pictures Based on History Retain Popularity Many Years

Hollywood, Calif., (AP)—Time does not dim interesting chapters of history. Consequently the motion picture based in part at least on some crucial moment of world evolution is capable of sustaining interest a long period.

This is the judgment of Jesse L. Lasky, in charge of Paramount production. He finds that history is one of the richest sources for material from which successful pictures may be made. Although the present trend is toward subjects of international interest one typically American can hold the public interest for an indefinite period if it be based on the more vivid chapters of the nation's history.

Citing the "Covered Wagon" as an example, he pointed out that it is still looking and making money wherever shown. Ten or twenty years will not dim its popularity.

"Pictures for the most part, which deal with modern problems, are in the theaters today and on the shelves tomorrow. Take the 'Ten Commandments', it is history—biblical history. This spectacle has established records in theaters the world over." "The Pony Express", "Vanishing American" and many other big films were mentioned by Lasky, who said that Paramount's future plans provide for many more screen records of outstanding historical episodes.

TRUCK SMASHED WHEN HEADLIGHTS FAIL

A small truck owned by Schmieder's Grocery, 415 S. Cherry-st., was badly damaged about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening when the lights on the car suddenly went out and it overturned in a ditch, pinning the three occupants underneath. The accident occurred on highway 55 about a mile east of Darboy.

Schmieder had loaned the car to a friend whose name he declined to give. It was said to be an Appleton man who was accompanied by his wife and a small child. None of the occupants were seriously injured. The top, windshield, and steering wheel and one fender of the car was smashed.

WON'T OPEN CHERRY-ST UNTIL "15" IS FINISHED

Considerable complaint has been made by some motorists that heavy trucks have been allowed on the new S. Cherry-st pavement south of the viaduct while the road and bridge are still closed to general traffic. According to the city engineering department only trucks hauling construction material for the pavement have been allowed on the concrete. The pavement on the west side of the S. Cherry-st boulevard has been completed for more than a month and no vehicles were allowed on it for two weeks immediately after it was finished. S. Cherry-st. will not be opened until the entire road is finished, because traffic on part of the route would interfere with the paving work because only one side of the street is open considerable congestion would result. Concrete is now being laid between the city limits and the county line on highway 15.

MENASHA PARK TO BE ONE OF BEST IN STATE

City Is Spending Time and Money in Improving Its Property

Menasha—By the time the bids are opened on July 23 for the construction of the new Spanish type of municipal bathing pavilion at the city park much of the preliminary work in the way of excavation for the lagoon and filling in of the low places will be completed. Hundreds of loads of earth from the new Third ward school building and from the new Congregational church have been unloaded near the site of the pavilion within the last two weeks.

A temporary bridge connecting the mainland with the island formed by the lagoon was built a few days ago and much of the earth was unloaded on the water front. The island will be extended into the river and will be provided with a sand beach. The water in the lagoon that has just been excavated is from one to two feet deep and has a rock bottom. While a current flows through the lagoon, it will be provided with waterworks connection for flushing. It will be used as the children's bathing pool.

The bathing pavilion will be erected between this lagoon and the two concrete tennis courts so that people can watch tennis matches on one side of the building and swimming contests on the other side. Each side of the building will be provided with a wide veranda. The adult swimming pool will be just above the lagoon where the water descends to a depth of six or eight feet. Boys will indicate the depth. A stationary diving raft will be provided. It is the intention of the park commission to make the river front of the park very attractive.

The park is more beautiful than ever this year and is being used more than ever by home people, by people from neighboring cities and by tourists from other states. According to M. V. Gruper, superintendent, picnics have been held daily for the last week and eleven more are booked for the remainder of the month. Saturday several hundred Odd Fellows from Menasha, Neenah, Appleton, Kaukauna, Oshkosh, Stockbridge and Clinton are gathered there for their annual picnic. The park contains more than 20 acres and one thing that impresses the stranger is its wonderful trees. Fifty new trees were set out this spring by the park board. Twenty of the old trees that show signs of decay are to be removed and will be replaced by new trees.

One of the attractions to which Mr. Gruper takes pride in calling the attention of visitors are the large flower beds in various forms scattered about the park. There are 34 in all and all are thrifty. All varieties of flowers can be seen. One of the beds contains 250 carnation plants which will be in bloom soon. Hand-sown shrubbery in all parts of the park adds to its beauty.

The park is used for recreational purposes as well as for picnics and family gatherings. It contains three baseball diamonds which are in almost daily use. Two of them are used by the Senior Playground Ball league composed of business and professional men which meets three evenings each week, two games being in progress at the same time.

The playground facilities of the city have been concentrated in the park this summer for the first time with R. G. DuCharme of the vocational school in charge. Hundreds of children gather daily to take advantage of supervised play. The playground equipment is quite complete, and is being added to constantly. Two new teeter totters having been installed this week. Public dances are given in the pavilion each Monday night by Henry J. Lenz, postmaster of the American legion.

SPECIALS AND PRUNES WIN BASEBALL GAMES

Menasha—Heck's Specials of the Senior Playground Ball league defeated the Golden Rules 16 to 9 at the city park Wednesday evening. The battery consisted of Heckrodt and Herzinger for Heck's Special and Smith and Curtis for the Golden Rules.

The Prunes won from the Rinky Dinks by a score of 9 to 1. Batteries—Slomski and Omar for the Prunes, and Beach and Ronek for the Rinky Dinks.

Thursday evening at the city park the Golden Rules will play St. Mary Young Men and the Park Stars will clash with Heck's Specials.

CHANGE DATE FOR FLAG DAY PROGRAM

Menasha—The celebration commemorating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the United States flag to be given by St. John church society will be held Saturday, Sept. 4, instead of the latter part of August as was originally announced. An afternoon program with a banquet in the evening is being planned. The date was changed in order to accommodate a Milwaukee delegation among whom will be some of the speakers who will remain here over Sunday.

Dance, Hemple's Sat. Nite.

UNIDENTIFIED DRIVER WRECKS CAR ON LAWN

Menasha—A roadster, owner unidentified, was wrecked at 1:50 Thursday morning on Nayman-st., opposite the residence of John Hrubosky, when the driver failed to make the turn and after striking the curb ran up on the terrace. The lawn was strewn with spokes from one of the wheels and the crash awakened people residing in the vicinity. The car was evidently traveling at a high rate of speed. The occupants escaped injury and first thing they did was to remove the license plate from the wrecked car. In telephoning to a garage for a wrecker the parties revealed no names.

SOCIAL ITEMS AT MENASHA

AD MENASHA SOCIAL COL. ... The Misses Vera and Leona Fie-weger entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Steffen, who recently were married in Canada. Cards were played and the prizes were won by Miss Marie Wirtz and Bruno Bell.

The Misses Pleasants entertained a group of friends at dinner Thursday evening at Hotel Menasha.

The Sanctuary society of St. Mary church held its annual picnic Thursday at the city park.

OSHKOSH BOYS GUESTS AT WOODENWARE PLANT

Menasha—Menasha Wooden Ware company entertained 35 members of the Algoma Camp for Boys of Lake Buttes des Morts at dinner at its cafeteria Thursday noon. The boys made the trip on the Mayflower of Oshkosh and were accompanied by Henry E. Fooley, who has been at the head of the camp for more than 15 years. After dinner they were shown through the Wooden Ware plant by John McAndrews, head of the employment department, and before returning also visited some of the other industrial plants.

BUSINESSMEN PREPARE FOR BASEBALL SERIES

Menasha—Steps are being taken to reorganize the business men's ball teams for a series of games at the city park. In all probability a dinner will be at stake. The two teams played a practice game Wednesday evening.

APPLETON MAN TALKS AT ROTARY MEETING

Menasha—George R. Wettengel of Appleton gave a talk on membership classification at the weekly luncheon of Menasha Rotary club Wednesday. A Rotary baseball team was organized with S. L. TEST FIRE ENGINE

Menasha—The fire department visited the government dock at the corner of Racine and Main-sts Wednesday evening, where the pump truck was given its weekly test of throwing water. The test was witnessed by quite a crowd.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

MRS. A. R. BEAL, Neenah—Mrs. A. R. Beal, 55, of San Antonio, Tex., died Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. S. B. Borgan, E. Forest-ave, where she had been visiting the last few weeks. Mrs. Beal formerly was Miss Ida Freeman of Menasha. Surviving are the widow and one daughter, Mrs. B. A. Swency of Kansas City, Mo., and one son, G. E. Freeman of Minneapolis. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Morgan. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

COMPILE DATA ON CONVERSION OF PUEBLO TRIBE

Franciscan Friars Spent Centuries in Christianizing Southwest Savages

Santa Fe, N. M., (AP)—Brothers of the Franciscan order of the Roman Catholic church in the Southwest are preserving the traditions of their organization, which arose from the martyrdom of priests who spent centuries in the conversion of the Pueblo Indians from their pagan beliefs to Christianity.

Much research work is being done by scholars to bring to light the facts of the spiritual conquest of the Pueblos, which they believe to be one of the most colorful pages of the history of the Americas.

Father Theodocius Meyer, after considerable study in the archives of the mission at Santa Barbara, California, has compiled a list of fifty-one members of the order who gave their lives in the period from 1542 to 1898. The result of this research contrasts the religious brothers with the proud conquistador, the one for the prize of mystical gold and gems, the other for the prize of human souls.

The history of the Christianization of the Indians showed that there were waves of persecution of the priests at intervals of forty or fifty years throughout nearly two centuries. They reached their climax in 1680, when the Pueblo Indians rose in rebellion against the tyranny of the Spanish rule, and killed nearly every white man in New Mexico. By a pre-arranged plot, thirty-one missionaries in a score of Pueblos, many of them 100 or more miles apart, were killed on one day.

Five of the religious brothers were killed in another massacre in a lesser uprising on June 4, 1696. The first of the priests to lose his life at the hands of the Pueblo Indians, was Fr. Juan de Padilla, who was killed at Gran Quivira on November 20, 1542.

In the same year two other priests were killed, one at Tigux and the other at Pecos. The three padres had remained behind among the savages after the first of the conquistadores had despaired of finding the mythical wealth of the Indians, and had returned to Mexico. The Gran Quivira, where the first one died, was reputed at that time to be a large Indian city where great wealth was to be found, and there was also some talk that there was the famed Fountain of Youth.

The Spaniards had heard such stories from their Indian guides, and when they found the village to be only a small settlement on top of a barren mesa, they turned back tired and discouraged. Even to this day, however, the mesa where the ancient pueblo stood is honeycombed by holes of treasure seekers, who still have faith in the old legends of hidden wealth.

By odd coincidence, the three villages which were the scenes of the first martyrdoms were all abandoned in later years, while most of the other pueblos which existed at that time are still inhabited by the Indians.

During the century and a quarter that followed the first shedding of the blood of the missionaries, there were only ten deaths.

JAPANESE STUDENTS WILL VISIT U. S.

Washington (AP)—The idea of American university students going abroad, especially to Europe, for a summer tour, is to have an Oriental counterpart.

One hundred Japanese students will reach Pacific coast cities this season for a brief sojourn, as the first step in what its promoters expect to be an influence for mutual good-will between the two countries. The program calls for an annual interchange of students, the Americans going to the island kingdom to gain clearer understanding of that country, and the Japanese coming to the United States for a like object.

What Will Your Harvest Be?

An abundant one—if you watch your garden and protect it from the diseases and insects which are likely to appear. These must be fought with determination and the battle must begin as soon as they reveal their existence. The government will aid you in the prevention and cure of your garden ills. Its experts have prepared an invaluable booklet on "Diseases and Insects of Garden Vegetables." Your garden may be only a backyard plot or it may cover acres—but in either event you need this booklet.

Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy of this booklet for you if you will send in your name and address together with a cent in stamps to cover the return postage.

STRAW SHOPPING BAGS ARE RAGE IN NEW YORK

New York (AP)—With summer coming coolness as the key note of fashion, even the carfare in Miss Fifth Avenue's purse keeps cool in the open mesh straw shopping bags that are the smart shops' latest.

In silk ribbons, weave straws of the new colors to match the summer hats, these pouch bags, about 10 inches in length, have added concession to July's penchant for white.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

READERS OF NEIGHBORS' WIVES—Through accident chapter of "Neighbors' Wives" was omitted from The Post-Crescent on Saturday and chapter 44 printed its stead. In order to rectify this error as far as possible chapter 43 is being printed today, along with chapter 45.

BEGIN HERE TODAY JOHN and FAY MILBURN buy a home when their baby girl is born and the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer hands a new contract. Among their acquaintances are—

NOEL and VERA BOYD, whose marriage is strictly "modern."

PAT and MARIAN FORBES, who have three children and whose domestic life is unhappy because of Pat's roving tendencies. Previous chapters told how:

John was fascinated on meeting NELL ORME, of whom Pat FORBES hints that she is having trouble with her husband.

When Fay took JUDITH, the baby to Chicago, to visit her parents, John "ran around" a good deal, mostly with Pat Forbes.

When Fay returned, gossip had related some of his doings, and sharp quarrels between him and Fay followed; one of which drove him "out on a tear." Fay, learning he had been out again with other women, threatened to leave him if it was repeated.

She fears John will get into trouble, but John thinks she is beginning to dislike him. He becomes aware that people are talking about him, and NATHANIEL GRAHAM, his partner, blames the loss of a client on the "damaged reputation" he charges John was bringing the firm.

Vera Boyd invites him to tea and overcomes his objections by holding out a "surprise" for him. It is a real surprise, for there he finds Nell Orme. Both are astonished to see each other and realize it is one of Vera's old tricks, she being noted for a fondness for promoting "affairs." He resolves not to go again, but he does, and this time he madly takes Nell in his arms and kisses her. A few minutes later the door opens and Marian Forbes walks in to find him holding her hands.

OW GO ON WITH THE STORY (The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XLIII Marian seemed startled. "Excuse me—where's Vera?" Her face had assumed a rosy red.

It was Nell Orme who first recovered her presence of mind. She engaged her hands from John's and said, "Oh, hello, Marian. Vera's on her way. Come in and have a cup of tea." She went composedly to pour a cup for Marian.

As for John, he was undergoing emotions a man must feel who has been caught with his hand in another's pocket. He felt that some explanation must be due Marian, but he thought of none that didn't sound plausible. "How's Pat?" he asked, trying to appear casual, and Marian answered in a peculiar tone. "Oh, no."

Well, he reflected, he'd certainly hit his foot in it this time. What could Marian think, married to Pat, whose indiscretions and numerous affairs were common gossip? Marian it down rather hesitantly, and John as inwardly raging because he could see that she had pronounced sentence on him and Nell.

"John?" Nell was offering him a cup. But his refusal was almost immediate. "No, thanks. Better be on my way. Give my apologies to Vera, and he reached for his hat.

Marian Forbes, because of her ex-cess with the irresponsible, nameless Pat, had grown to be distrustful of all men. In her eyes they were the unfair sex, a lying, heating crew, deserving to be punished. In her own case, she stuck to it only because of the children.

Marian was not vindictive, nor was she a great hand at meddling in other people's affairs. But she had eyed in a sisterhood of women, believed that something held them together in a common cause, and so it was not surprising that she should all Fay Milburn that she had come on John and Nell Orme in Vera's house and had evidently interrupted them in a tender scene. It was not surprising at all; she believed she had it to Fay.

To Marian's credit it should be said that she bore John no grudge, or did she harbor any against Nell Orme; but she was very fond of Fay—almost to the point of adoration—and she could not sit back and see his blow struck at her friend without doing something. Now was the time strong enough to resist, when opportunity arose, sharing her own misery with someone else.

Fay felt the world slipping away from her when Marian told her, thought outwardly she managed to reserve her usual calm. Nell Orme, the one woman she feared more than all others. What had Marian seen? What did she know of the affair? Had they been meeting often? Marian did not know. She had seen them holding each other's hands and they had looked considerably embarrassed when she came in on them. Of course, she always had a right in Vera's house without being asked. Vera had always insisted on it. She hoped Fay wouldn't think she was being catty or vindictive. In fact, her but her conscience simply wouldn't let her rest unless she did.

After Marian left Fay moved round the house in a daze. She collected her wits and spent most of the afternoon holding Judith and fighting against the feeling of self-ity that had come on her and the tears that kept springing in her eyes. Well, she told herself, she had decided on her course long ago, and now she was going through with it; it neglected while you gallivanted around with a lot of wild friends. "And now you've got Nell Orme. Oh, I've seen it coming, and I wasn't entirely surprised when Marian Forbes told me what she had seen. And now I'm going to leave you to your Nell—and to the others."

"I tell you you have no business to talk like that. There's nothing between me and Nell Orme."

Fay made no answer, but stood there looking at him, and her eyes expressed a disbelief that infuriated him almost beyond his endurance.

But Fay's temper was out of control, too, although hers was a still, cold fury. A sound came from the next room, shattering the quiet that had fallen on them. It was Judith, and she had evidently stumbled and fallen, for she let loose an explosive little cry.

Fay turned her eyes away from John, and started for Judith, and her contemptuous disregard of him was more maddening than words.

John said slowly, "Fay, I won't stand for this sort of treatment. Do you hear me?"

She turned again. "You and your women!" she cried.

"I believe," he said hoarsely, "that you're nasty minded, Fay."

Instantly her face flamed. She took two slow steps toward him, and then very deliberately she smacked him full in the face.

Fay learns of it, and announces her intention of leaving. He tries to dissuade her and a violent quarrel follows, during which Fay strikes him in the mouth, and John leaves the house. When he comes back, Fay is packing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY (The names and situations in this story are fictitious.)

CHAPTER XLIV Blindly, and without purpose, John descended the stairs, his mind a seething furnace of resentment. To be treated like this—as if he were a criminal! How could Fay do it? Well, she wouldn't, if she thought anything of him, and he wondered if indeed, he really had killed her love for him.

He wandered into the kitchen, spotless and gleaming. Here—a thing of resplendent nickel and porcelain—was their gas range, which Fay had taken so much pleasure in buying and which had given the two of them so much joy as they prepared their little informal Sunday suppers. He wondered, dully, what was to become of it, now that Fay had made up her mind to leave it, and it did not occur to him at all as ridiculous that he should feel pity for it—animate though it was.

Across the room was the white enamel table with its porcelain top. He had surprised Fay with that table—had bought it one day on impulse, knowing that Fay had wanted it and, standing alone, that she was waiting until they could afford it. Cautious, economical Fay. Practical Fay. That was it—she was too darned practical.

Given a little more imagination, she might have understood him better. He shrugged. Oh, well! His glance, roving idly around the room, fell on the cupboard above the table. On the second shelf, he knew, was a bottle of whisky—and forgetfulness. Well, if Fay was going to drive him to it, all right. He opened the door to the cupboard and pulled forth the bottle. He did not bother about a glass, but drank fiercely, bent on drowning his troubles.

Fay was proceeding calmly with her plans for leaving. Breakfast the next morning was a cold, emotionless affair, and John, as he played abstractedly with Judith, was high to breaking Fay's heart, and she was compelled to turn her head to hide the compassion and the tears that were in her eyes.

A word from either might have unseated the chair, but she had yawned between them since yesterday, but Fay had issued her ultimatum, and John now was too proud to make any more advances. If he had said, at that terrible breakfast, "Fay, I need you, I can't let you go," she would have melted, for she had cried ceaselessly throughout the day, and she was a little ashamed and in terror of her contemplated act. Such trifles as what she would tell her mother and father when she returned to them were trifles no longer now that they loomed as actualities, and they in themselves would have been enough to dissuade her if John only had said the proper thing.

But John, as he wiped his lips with his napkin after drinking his morning glass of orange juice, said, "I dodge. But I'll be back early and help you if I can. When do you intend to leave?"

His matter-of-factness was exasperating, Fay thought. Well, if it didn't mean any more to him than that she'd show him that she could be indifferent, too.

"I'd like to leave tonight, but I hardly think I can get ready. Suppose I take the morning train?"

He showed a little surprise, though not much. "So soon? Well, all right. Shall I get your ticket?"

"If you don't mind."

"Not at all." He was maddeningly polite. He bent down to Judith, kissed her and then, bowing slightly to Fay, departed. And Fay, left alone with Judith once more, and appalled at the dread finality of the step she was taking, did the only thing that was natural for her to do: she sat down and cried, and hugged Judith to her breast and cried some more.

"John!" she kept saying over and over, "if you only cared. But you don't, you don't."

And John, on his way down to the office, at last began to feel the weight of the tragedy that was pressing down on him. His very life, he realized, was being torn up by the roots. What was he going to do without Fay? What were people going to say about him? What would his friends ask him? He could see Dick Menefee now—good old Dick. What would Dick think? And Margaret, and Clara—and Nat Graham. He swore bitterly at the thought of Graham. Hell with him! Very likely Nat would him to account for something else now, and doubtless blame him the next time something went wrong.

And Fay, why didn't she exhibit some common sense? By the Lord Harry, he wouldn't say or do a thing to hold her back now. He had gone to her, pleading, almost on his knees, and she had spurned his advances. Very well, the next move was up to her. He'd show her he had some pride.

And Judith—here he paused and almost cried out with pain at the thought of her being taken away from him. What right had Fay to take her away? He supposed, too, that Fay would never realize the

He was saying, "I suppose it will be some time before you'll divorce"—she flinched at the word—"and get the matter of alimony straightened out—"

At that she lifted her head sharply and said that she hadn't once thought of alimony, nor did she intend to accept any.

But he ignored her. "Until then, I'll send you any amount you want each week until the court fixes an amount."

"I tell you," she cried defiantly, "I don't want any. I won't accept any."

"Do you suppose," he asked with a grim smile, "that I intended to let my daughter live on someone else's charity? If you won't accept any yourself, you'll have to accept it for Judith. You can't deny me that right."

"To help provide for my own child—" "You seem to forget that Judith is also mine."

"I haven't forgotten for a minute. But you're not going to take away from me the privilege of being a father to her."

She said cuttingly, "It's a shame you didn't think more of the privilege while you had her."

John colored hotly, but held his temper in leash. "All right, we won't argue that point. I just want to set things straight. You're leaving me, and you're going to get a divorce. I won't contest it—I'll make it as easy for you as possible. At least," he added bitterly, "you'll have to give me credit for that. I presume you're going to live with your parents. Are you going to work?"

Fay nodded. "I hadn't given it much thought, but I know I can always get my old secretarial job back. However, I won't have to work, of course. Mother and dad will see to that."

"I don't want them to support Judith," he insisted. "I'll send you a check for $25 a week, that ought to be enough to take care of her."

"It's too much, I—" "I insist, I'll send it every week. I'd send it even if it took my last penny."

He rose. "I'll have to go down to the office. Got an appointment. I can't ahead—anything to bring pain—and regret—to Fay."

The day passed somehow, and early evening found him once more home with Fay, where the first thing he did was to give her the check for $5000.

"I'll leave the matter of dismissing the maid to you," she told him at dinner.

"Very well," he said wearily. "I got a drawing room on the twenty-nine tomorrow morning. Have you wired your folks yet?"

"No, I'll do it tonight."

"All right. Anything I can help you with?"

"Not a thing."

Silence once more descended on them, thick, terrible silence, and Fay, to keep from screaming aloud, went early to bed, where she lay sleepless. And John, the awful thought of the tragic tomorrow pressing him like a fog, sought solace once more in the bottle in the kitchen cupboard, but even the heavy liquor failed to bring him restful sleep in the little room down the hall.

Morning came, and the great red sun in its cheerfulness was like a gigantic mockery. More than once John was on the verge of pleading with Fay to change her mind, and more than once Fay, on the point of surrender, was tempted to seek comfort in his arms. But pride ruled, and at the railroad station John experienced the greatest pang of his life when he kissed Judith goodbye. What would tomorrow be like without her and Fay—and the next day, and the next, and the next?

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

Chuck Again

I left Lyme and Bill together and walked on a little farther quite unhappy over Billie. I saw that she would probably marry Lyman Andrews and be unhappy ever after. My eyes were on the pavement when I heard a voice ask: "Where are you going, Judy?" and I looked up into the face of Chuck Becker.

I laughed. I couldn't help it. Charlie Becker, who had always prided himself on being the screen type, looked so funny with his discolored eye and swollen cheek.

"My laugh made him furious but I couldn't stop, even when I saw he was holding himself in check for fear he would say something nasty. He was almost insane with anger."

"You'd better stop laughing, young lady, and walk along as though you were crazy about me even with this face. Didn't you know that tomorrow morning the papers will announce our engagement and coming early marriage?"

"No Chuck. They'll do nothing of the kind. It may make you happier to know that I was more successful with Father than you were. I made my threat that I would not marry you if you were the last person on earth, good."

"I told your father not to tell you I said that, Judy."

"Well, you needn't worry anything about it, Chuck. The moment Father announced what he was going to do, I said immediately I wouldn't marry you under any circumstances and that you had said the same thing didn't bother me at all."

"Don't get mad, Judy. I didn't mean it. At least I don't mean it now. You ought to know that giving a fellow an eye like mine does not endear a girl to him for the moment. Now, I've come to my senses and I know that I want you. Why, Judy, what have I been playing around with you all summer for if I didn't want you? That's a sure test, isn't it? Why, I never went with any other girl so long in my life! Come on, let's give the old folks a surprise and slip out and get married."

"Why, don't you know, Judy. I never wanted a girl as much as I want you. Come on. Be a sport. Come and marry me tonight."

I looked up at Charles Becker and again I laughed and then I grew rather sick, but I kept up my bluff and said:

"I'm afraid you don't understand, Chuck. I told you that I'd make my threat that I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth, good. I've persuaded Dad to let me go to Chicago and try to earn my own living."

MUSICIAN INDICTS JAZZ ON 10 COUNTS

London—(P)—Jazz has been indicted on 10 counts by Dr. Henry Coward, conductor of the Sheffield Musical Union, and one of England's most noted musicians.

Dr. Coward's reasons for its suppression are that it has:

- 1. Jerky rhythms.
- 2. Blatant muted trumpets.
- 3. Hooting.
- 4. Out-of-tune saxophones.
- 5. Irritating pling-plongs by banjos.
- 6. Boisterous bangings of kitchen utensils.
- 7. Ceaseless commotion.
- 8. Atavistic tendencies.
- 9. Grotesque howlings.

PAY HIGH PRICES FOR SHIP MODELS

Thousands of People Seek Popular Antiques According to Art Institute Officials

Chicago—(P)—The ship model is the current fad in antiques. Thousands of land lubbers whose maritime experience has not enabled them to tell a topsail from a fore-castle are hot on the trail of authentic models of vessels which sailed the Spanish main, and the demand has become so great for information about ship models that the Chicago Art Institute is displaying a number of exhibits.

The favor in which replicas of sailing vessels have suddenly found themselves is merely one phase of the appetite for antique-collecting, institute officials said.

A price of $27,000 is reported to have been paid for one such replica, while a Chicago dealer asked $25,000 apiece for a pair of models in his possession.

The ship model originated several centuries ago when sailors fashioned miniature of the vessels they sailed and put them in churches or civic halls upon their successful return from a voyage, as thank offerings or memorials.

Although models were not unknown as mantel decorations in earlier centuries, they were not popularized as such until interior decorators began a decade ago to put them in large living rooms of wealthy customers.

Since then the fad has become so widespread that many a one-room apartment has its ship model tucked up on a ledge between the indoor bed and the disappearing kitchenette.

MEDICS TELL HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY DURING SUMMER

Conditions on Farm Make Health Risk Greatest in Warm Weather

Summer increases the health risks. Heat may be fatal; little scratches may lead to painful wounds and flies may spread disease. Most of these dangers can be obviated easily. Seven hints on how to keep fit during the summer months were issued by the health committee of the State Medical Society. Here they are:

Let in the sunlight. Sleep with the windows open. Guard the water supply from impurities.

Dispose of sewage in the country by building a septic tank. Protect food from decomposition and dangerous bacteria.

Remove garbage promptly from the home surroundings. Abolish every breeding place for flies to prevent insect-borne ills.

Many conditions on the farm make health risks greater in summer than at other seasons," declares the Medical Society bulletin. "Farmers will help to keep themselves on the safe side during the warm months by following carefully certain rules of hygiene and sanitation.

"The farmer needs a varied diet of wholesome food, limited in the main to three meals a day. He should drink liberally of water between meals. It is possible he should take 1 to 20 minutes rest after dinner and supper. Regularity in functions is absolutely necessary for health.

"Small cuts, bruises and scratches should be given attention to prevent infection or blood poisoning. In case of a puncture occurring, for example by stepping on a nail, the wound should be opened and cleansed with boiled water. If it becomes inflamed a physician should be called at once. Medical advice should be sought in all cases of punctured wounds. Cuts or scratches should be treated or a wet dressing of a boric acid solution made by dissolving in hot water all the boric crystals or powder that the water will absorb. Care should be taken to keep dirt out of wounds. On the first indication of marked illness the farmer should seek proper medical advice.

"During very hot weather the farm worker needs periods of rest and should drink reasonable quantities of cold water—but not ice water. Upon the slightest sign of dizziness or unusual fatigue he should stop work for a little while and, if possible, bathe his head, hands and arms in cold water. Such precautions will tend to avoid sunstroke and injury from what may be regarded as heat exhaustion. "The diet in hot weather should be largely milk, vegetables, fruit, and cereals. It should contain very little meat. Constipation is at all times serious and likely to impair one's health, especially during the hot summer months. The general tendency is to eat too fast and too much. Remember that the teeth are a valuable part of the organs of digestion, and that a reasonable quantity of food is sufficient to keep up the strength and support activities and at the same time to relieve the system of undue burden.

The average person in the United States uses 1.20 pints of milk a day, according to estimates issued by the department of agriculture June 21. The full text of the department's statement follows: Milk consumption in the United States last year reached its highest point in the nation's history, the quantity of milk, including cream consumed in fluid form being 54,326,000,000 pounds, an increase of 1,554,000,000 pounds over 1924.

CHURCH HEADS TO ATTEND MEETING

Congress of American Episcopal Church to Convene at Milwaukee

Noted officials of the church will take part in the second annual meeting of the congress of the American Episcopal church which is to convene at Milwaukee Oct. 12, 13 and 14. This meeting is to be one of the outstanding events of the church this year.

Plans for the congress are progressing rapidly, according to "The Living Church" an official Episcopal publication. One of the most interesting features of the congress will be a pilgrimage to Nashotah, a real shrine of Anglo-Catholicism in America.

"The Catholic congress stands for the Nicene faith in its fullness, as against every denial on the part of Protestantism and rationalism," says an official pamphlet recently published by the congress committee. "It's purpose is to propagate and defend the religion of the incarnation of God the Son, as that religion is made available for men through the seven Christ-ordained sacraments of the holy Catholic church. The Catholic congress is a permanent agency and, as such, functions actively every day in the year."

The Rt. Rev. Charles Fiske, D. D., bishop of Central New York will be the preacher at the solemn pontifical mass, which will be celebrated at All Saints cathedral on the morning of Wednesday, Oct. 13. Among the important speakers at the congress are Bishop Johnson of Colorado, Prof. Chauncey Brewster Tinker of Yale university and Haley Fiske, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

WHERE ARE AMATEUR JOURNALISTS OF OLD?

Where are the amateur journalists of long ago? That's what The Fossils, an organization of amateur journalists of the past, want to know, according to a letter received by Postmaster William H. Zuehlke from Leonard E. Tilden of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics at Washington and president of The Fossils. The letter requests information regarding the boy editors of Appleton of many years ago, whose papers are on file in the Fossil library in New York.

Those named in the letter are Henry W. Shelp and William Crider, editor and associate editor of The Boys' Free Press which was published here in 1878; and M. H. Shelp and H. F. Huebster, editor and associated editor of The Appleton Amateur, published here in 1877.

The Fossil library contains nearly 50,000 old amateur papers, books, photographs, etc. of the men and women "who were boys and girls since 1850."

Here's Instant Relief from Bunions and Soft Corns

Actually Reduces the Swelling—Soft Corns Dry Right Up and Can Be Picked Off.

Voigt's Drug Store, Schlitz Bros. Co. says Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done? Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes all the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night to bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off. No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn. Something that will end your foot troubles forever.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

APPLETON BALL CLUB PLAYS NEENAH ON SUNDAY

BAETZMEN WILL TAKE FIELD WITH CHANGED LINEUP

Switch in Infield Expected to Strengthen Defense of Local Team

APPLETON'S ball artists will take the field in their game against Neenah here Sunday with a changed lineup. C. O. Baetz, manager, has promised. Manager Baetz has tried several changes in the lineup this week, and the combination which finally pleased him most included Schultz at short stop, Phillips of Kimberly at third base, and Gosha either at first base or in the outfield. As Tarnow has been performing capably at first, Gosha probably will draw an outfield assignment.

"The infield has been the sore spot of the team since the start of the season," Manager Baetz said. "Somehow, we never seemed to hit on the right combination, and the result was poor teamwork and too many errors. I think this fault has been remedied now, but of course we can't be sure until after Sunday's game. The new lineup has been showing up well in practice, however, and I do not see why the same performance cannot be given in a regular game."

Schultz has been switched to short stop from third base. Phillips, Kimberly player who will take Schultz' place at the dizzy corner, was secured by the local club in trade for Courtney. Phillips played several games in an Appleton uniform last season.

Although Neenah has won only one game in nine starts, the Baetzmen are not looking forward to a light workout Sunday afternoon. They have not been going any too well themselves of late, the double defeat at the hands of Green Bay last weekend testifying to that fact, and they will not be satisfied with anything else but another mark in the win column.

A decided change in the standing of league representatives may be expected after Sunday's games. Oshkosh and Green Bay, which two clubs are setting the pace in the league, will clash at the Sawdust town, Oshkosh cannot be knocked from its perch at the head of the league, even if it does lose, as it has a lead of 2 1/2 games over the second place Bay crew.

Kimberly will play host to the ball artists from Fond du Lac, and the town is pretty much interested over the impending clash. Kimberly is an ornery team to defeat on home territory, but the team from the foot of the lake will attempt to show that there are exceptions.

LEGION SOFTBALLERS HOLD LEAGUE LEAD

The American Legion indoor baseball squad strengthened its hold on first place in the Twilight league Wednesday night winning from the Meyers, 8 to 5. Both pitchers hurled in good form, but the team's teammates. This was the ninth consecutive win for Skall, who has chalked up seven victories for the Bus Drivers and two for the Legion. Baetz was the hitting star for the Legion with three two-base blows. Batteries were: Legion, Skall and Baetz; Meyer Press, Colvin and Radier. The Legion and Y. M. C. A. squads will clash next Monday evening. As the "Y" representatives are only a half game behind the pace-setting Legionaires, the clash will be important to both.

KIMBERLY TOPS TIGERS FOR FOURTH VICTORY

Kimberly—K. C. Juniors of Kimberly trounced South Side Tigers of Appleton at Interlake park 7 to 2 Wednesday night. In seventh frame Kimberly aggregation sent three runs across the plate, and the Tigers came back with two in the next inning. The Juniors sent over the last four runs to complete the scoring for the game. This is the fourth meeting of the two squads, the Juniors having won each of the previous encounters. Buck LaMay was the leading hitter for the K. C. squad with four safe singles out of five tries to the plate. Joe Gossens followed with three safeties. VanZandt, pitching for Kimberly, had the South Siders in hand at all times, while Wolf pitching for the opposition, turned in seven innings of air tight ball.

HELPFUL HINTS TO GOLFING STARS

JIMMY OCKENDEN—DANGER IN OVERSPIN DRIVES
It is a generally accepted principle among golfers that the nature of the spin imparted to the ball has a great deal to do with the length of the shot. Other things being equal, the ball with over-spin will run farther than the ball with back-spin or under-spin. The discovery of this fact has had a marked effect upon the present-day driver for length. He has deliberately cultivated the art of hitting his ball with over-spin.
I venture to suggest that the above mentioned method of hitting the ball is an extremely dangerous method.
When I say this, I speak from my own personal experience. As a youngster, I wanted length at all costs, and, of course, I developed the draw shot to something of a high art.
But I have learned since that I was working on a highly dangerous principle—a principle which, while delightfully effective on nine occasions out of 10, was sure to let me down badly on the tenth effort.

WISCONSIN ELKS WIN SHOOT MEET

Badger Marksmen Break 478 Targets Out of 500; Iowa Is Second

Chicago—(P)—Wisconsin nosed out Iowa and Illinois Wednesday for the state team trap shooting championship of the Elk lodge when its marksmen broke 478 targets out of 500; Iowa finished in second place with 477 and Illinois third with 476, in the feature event of the two day traps competition which ended Wednesday.

Charles S. Hart of New York was elected president of the Elk Trap Shooting association. H. R. Everling of Portland was named honorary president for life. Charles D. Ray of Watertown, S. D., was elected vice president and Ray L. R. Maxwell of Chicago, Clyde C. Mitchell of La Crosse, Wis., and Charles Fleming, mayor of Spokane were made executive committeemen. Mrs. Walter P. Andrews of Atlanta, Ga., was made chairman of the women's committee. The class A, singles championship was won by A. Buse of Hammond, Ind., with a perfect score. Clyde C. Mitchell of LaCrosse was second and D. M. Hudson of Hammond, third. Leo Host of Milwaukee broke 97 targets to win in Class C.

SHOES COUNT NINE RUNS IN 4TH INNING

Kimberly—Counting nine runs in the fourth inning, Wydeven Shoes easily defeated the Clubhouse Boosters in a softball game here Wednesday evening. Bush and Ritten each scored three runs for the winners while Jansen crossed the plate three times for the Boosters. Courchane pitched a splendid game for the Shoes. Batteries were: Sandhofer, Mauths, and Gossens for the Shoes, and Courchane and Van Zealand for the Boosters. Thursday evening Verhagens Hardware and Wrinkles Rounders will play.

OSHKOSH COACH TO AID RIPON DIRECTOR

Ripon—(P)—R. A. Koif, former assistant coach at Oshkosh Normal school, will aid Coach Carl Doehling in the directing of sports at Ripon college during the coming year. Koif has been at Oshkosh Normal for three years, coaching basketball and assisting Coach Hancock in gymnasium work there. Coach Doehling expects to team Koif in developing the second team during football season, and also gives him virtually complete control of the basketball squad.

Ruth, Playing Great Ball, Seeks .400 Batting Average

BIL BILLY EVANS
Babe Ruth has other ambitions this year aside from shooting at his record of 59 home runs made in 1921.

Sitting on the New York bench the other day, discussing the possibility of his breaking the record, which is rather remote, I learned Babe has other ideas about batting feats. "I would like to bat .400 this year," remarked the Babe. "I never have hit that mark in the big show. "I really think I have a better chance to do that than make 60 home runs."

If you see this is the last year of my fat contract. If I can lead the league in batting with a mark better than .400, and make in the neighborhood of 50 home runs, I will be able to talk good business with Colonel Ruppert. To which Colonel Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, adds: "If Ruth can't have too big a year to suit me, I hope his showing is so good he makes me pay him a much bigger salary."

GIANTS PUT CRIMP IN LEAD OF CINCY

John McGraw's Giants certainly put a crimp in that nice lead the Cincy Reds had in the National League. When the series between the two clubs was over, the New Yorkers had not only taken the Hendricks entourage for a clean sweep, but had brought it down to within striking distance of the Pirates and Cards. It also took the Giants five games closer to the top.

BREWERS SMOTHER HOME TALENT NINE

Watertown—It was Bastille day in Paris and home talent day in Watertown. The Brewers played an exhibition in the interests of said home talent applied science, and what you will. After seven dizzy rounds the Home Brews were given the nod on a technical K. O., the official figures being something like 15 to 1. It was strictly a home talent affair—and not a point was misrepresented. All the fair folk of Dodge, Jefferson and surrounding counties were present, and over half of 'em played. Johnny Hughes sent 'em in and pulled 'em out so fast that he got mixed up himself—had a first baseman in centerfield and didn't discover the error until two innings later, and one poor chap was skipped entirely when his turn to bat came around.

KIMBERLY BALLTEAM SEEKING MORE GAMES

Any ball team composed of boys up to 16 years of age desiring games are requested to write Buck LaMay, Kimberly, Manager of K. C. Junior baseball team. Games can be arranged for either at home or away.

Cleveland—Danny Kramer, Philadelphia, beat Jimmy Mendo, Cleveland, (10).

BERLENBACH AND DELANEY READY FOR TITLE BOUT

Challenger Is Favorite in Betting, but Champ Is Improved Man

FIGHT FACTS
Principals—Paul Berlenbach, of New York, world's light-heavyweight champion and Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn.
Conditions—Fifteen rounds to decision at 175 pounds.
Place—Ebbetts field, Brooklyn.
Time—First preliminary, 7:15 P. M. standard time; main event 9 P. M.
Estimated attendance—30,000. Estimated receipts—$500,000. Referee and judges to be announced at ringside.
Promoter—Humbert J. Fugazy.

New York—(P)—The light-heavyweight champion of the world will defend his crown Thursday night against the man many think should wear it.

Paul Berlenbach of New York, product of amateur wrestling, is the champion. Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., who once flattened Berlenbach in four rounds, is the challenger. Fully 50,000 persons are expected at Ebbetts field to see the encounter which is scheduled for 15 rounds, although few expect it to go that distance. The financial returns will approximate a half million dollars.

Only a heavyweight battle hitherto has aroused such interest as that manifest in this fight. Some 500 newspapers from as far away as Mexico, will be at the ringside.

Speculators have large batches of tickets and the $27.50 brand are being offered at $40 while $100 is asked for a ringside chair.

Delaney is the favorite in betting by about six to five which very likely will become even money at ring time. Some Wall Street brokerage offices have reported bets at one to three that Delaney will win by a knockout.

A rugged, unrelenting attack, featured by a terrific left hand is the offering of the champion to his opponent—deadly with the right drive and with an improved left—is expected to stand off for a time, protecting himself by his cleverness of foot. Delaney will be awaiting the opportunity he found a year ago last winter, the first opening in the champion's defense, to send that right home.

But Berlenbach by his showing of late is a vastly improved ring man and the opportunity that Delaney seeks may not come. When Berlenbach hits he does damage, and his friends are supporting him handsomely. Berlenbach gained a 15 pound decision over Delaney in Madison Square garden last winter although sent to the floor in the fourth round.

MACKS GET FOUR HITS, SIX RUNS

Philadelphia—It's rather unusual for a major league team to score six runs on only four hits, but that's what the Macks did against the league-leading Yanks here the other day.
Lamar, Dykes and Poole were the boys to clout safely with the latter getting a double and Dykes a pair of singles. These four hits coupled with nine walks, a hit batsman, two wild pitches and an error showed over a half dozen tallies. Collins of the Yanks also turned in a passed ball for good measure.
Meanwhile, the Yanks counted but three markers on nine safe blows, Walberg being especially effective in the pinches.

YANKEES TAME TIGERS IN 12 INNING BATTLE

Tie Score in Ninth Inning and Score Winning Run in Twelfth Inning

The New York Yankees are having a reaction from late inning failures which have cost them many a game this season. They went into the ninth inning against Detroit Wednesday five runs behind and two men went out speedily, the great Ruth striking out. Then hits began to appear and the game was tied 6-6. The team toiled for three more innings before Gehrig sent forth a triple scoring Ruth with 'em winning run. Chicago gained a 10 to 2 decision over Washington. The other teams in the circuit were rained out. Covaleskie and Morrell gave up 13 hits to the White Sox.

The New York Giants gained ground in the National league by batting Pittsburgh twice, 12-8 and 5-2. They were outslugged in the opener, the Pirates piling up 16 safeties to 13 for the opposition but four of the world champion's runs came in a futile ninth inning effort.

Pittsburgh announces that Eddie Moore, infielder, had been fined $100 and Emil Yde, left handed pitcher, $50, for indifferent playing in the games with the Giants.

Cincinnati added a half a game to its lead through Carl Mays' 5-1 verdict over the heavy hitting Phillies. The Boston Braves scored 4 times in the opening inning against Chicago, and won, 6-4, although Benton was hit hard.

Doug McWeeney, pitching strongly except in the sixth, when two runs were scored accounted for Brooklyn's victory over the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2. Southworth of the Cardinals hit a homer.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES

NUMEROUS SPORT STARS SHINE ON CINEMA SCREEN

Champions of All Nations Are Featured in Moving Pictures

Los Angeles. —(AP)— Much like a volume of "Who's Who in Sportdom" is the chronicle of athletic prowess that is being written in celluloid by sporting stars of today and "yesterday" under the ghostly glare of Klieg lights.

Their roles range from bits that call for the extra's pay to feature parts compelling magnificent salaries. Often times the parts, particularly where time and age has dimmed the brilliance of athletic crowns, in no way resembles those played in real life yet many are doing before the camera the stunts which brought them glory.

Boxing, football, baseball, wrestling, track and field performers are in the assemblage and of these aspirants for film honors, only a few remain for any great length of time. One of the exceptions is Luigi Montany, familiarly known as "Bull Montana", the wrestler. He has been in the favor of Klieg film fans for more than five years.

MANY PRIZE FIGHTERS
The giant Jim Jeffries, for some six years king of heavyweight pugilists, went back to the farm after a brief career as a movie actor. Tippecanoe, 63, and Jack Herrick are familiar figures. Then, of a later date, "Gunboat" Smith, "Sailor" Sharky and "Broken Nose" Murphy have stepped out of the sport page and into the dramatic column.

Gene Tunney is one of the latest to show up in the film field. He is following in the movie lot footsteps of Jack Dempsey, from whose brow he hopes to topple the heavyweight crown. As he has a ten-picture contract he will have a place before the lens for some time.

Lesser lights of this sport are numerous, including Gene Delmont, light weight veteran of a half hundred battles; Larry Williams, heavy; Phil Salvatore and Joe Benjamin, lightweights; and George Godfrey, negro heavy.

Norman Selby, middleweight champion as Kid McCoy, enjoyed a successful movie career lasting several years before he went to prison for his part in the Theresa Mors killing. Film fame lure also drew onto the lot, Georges Carpentier, France's heavyweight and Benny Leonard, former lightweight title holder.

PADDOCK JOINS FOLD
From other branches of sport there came the carrot-topped Harold "Red" Grange of undisputed gridiron prowess; Maurice "Lefty" Flynn stalwart Yale fullback of 10 years back and, if one has a good memory for turf victories of long ago, one may recognize the features of a score of famed American jockeys. Among them are "Charley" Madden, "Shorty" Hall and William Robbins of whom are riding to thrilling victories on the silver sheet.

The nimble feet of Charles Paddock have been signed for dramatic performances. He likewise is showing talent in playwriting.

Then there is Duke Kahanamoku, great Hawaiian swimmer, John Hackenschmidt, Konstantine Romanoff and Kala Pasha, wrestlers, and from out of the reminiscences of baseball, Mike Donlin in major league circles.

CONFIRM CLASS OF 7 BOYS AT FOREST JUNCTION

Special to Post-Crescent.
Forest Junction — A class of seven boys were confirmed by Rev. R. A. Franke Sunday at the Evangelical church. The boys are Wilbur Seybold, Elmer Weighert, Elden Schnell, Milford Huebner, Wilmer Wink and Lloyd Franke.

A real ginger ale —made from real Jamaica ginger

THE reason for the wonderful flavor of "Canada Dry" can be told in ten short words—"It is real ginger ale—made from real Jamaica ginger."

Because it is real ginger ale, "Canada Dry" blends delightfully with other beverages—it will not bite the tongue or burn the lips—it has none of that flat, syrupy taste—it leaves no "brassy" after-taste or recurring "back kick"—it is friendly to the stomach!

Make it a point to try "Canada Dry." The very first taste will tell you why it has been famous for so many years in Canada and why it has been the sensation of the United States ever since it was first introduced into this country a few short years ago.

ELK BAND WINS SECOND PLACE AT CONVENTION

Minneapolis, Minn., Organization Awarded First Honors in Contest

The prize winning Elk band will leave Chicago early Thursday evening, arriving here at 11:30 at the Northwestern depot. A large number of Elks are planning to be on hand to greet the returning musicians and congratulate them on their excellent showing at the national Elk band contest.

Appleton Elk band won second place in the band contest at the national Elk convention now in session at Chicago, a telegram received Thursday morning from the local delegation stated. The Minneapolis, Minn., band won first place, and Denver, Colo., was awarded third honors. A prize of $250 was awarded for second place. Thirty-five bands representing Elk lodges from all parts of the country took part in the contest which was held at Soldiers' field before approximately 10,000 persons.

The local organization, which is composed chiefly of musicians in the 120th Field Artillery band, was organized a short time ago under the direction of Edward F. Munn, director of the Artillery band. It has 25 members, the band has participated in only a few concerts since its organization, but as all members are accomplished musicians, it did not require much time to perfect a splendid musical group.

Recognized as the second best Elk band in the country, the organization will return from the convention with the intention of improving itself to such a degree as to win first honors at the 1927 convention.

MAYOR RULE BACK AT DESK IN CITY HALL

Mayor Albert C. Rule returned to his desk at City hall Thursday morning after being confined to his home for two weeks on account of illness. The mayor suffered an acute attack of kidney trouble on July 2, and has not been able to be at his work since that time. It was thought at first he might have to submit to an operation but an X-Ray examination revealed that this would be unnecessary. The mayor is considerably improved but has not regained all his strength and can only be at the office for part of the day.

WAUPACK MAN MEMBER OF CRACK GUN SQUAD

D. C. Hayward of Waupack, a member of the Appleton Angling and Shooting club, and L. D. Frint of Milwaukee, a former resident of Appleton were members of the Wisconsin team which won first place in the Elk national shooting contest in Chicago. The contest was held in connection with the Elks national convention.

Other members of the team were C. C. Mitchell, Leo Host and A. H. Fitz.

DENTISTS HEAR TALK BY SENATOR LENROOT

Senator Irvine L. Lenroot was one of the principal speakers at the Wisconsin State Dental society annual meeting which opened at Hotel Pflaum, Milwaukee, Tuesday morning and lasted until Wednesday night. Appleton dentists at the meetings were Dr. K. Pratt, Dr. W. E. O'Keefe, Dr. C. Perschbacher, Dr. W. M. Edgar and Dr. R. R. Lally. Dr. Pratt entered the annual golf tournament which was held for state dentists Monday morning at the Old Blue Mound Country club.

Other speakers on the program were Douglas Malloch, author; Dr. Louis J. Weinstein, New York; Fred E. Mott, Chicago; Dr. Russell Haden, Kansas City; Mr. Dr. A. R. Barnes, Mayo clinic; Dr. George B. Winter, St. Louis.

RELEASE YOUTH TO EARN MONEY TO PAY WOMAN

Young Man Accused of Striking Down Woman and Running Away Gets Freedom

Preliminary examination of Edward Perket, Spaulding, Mich., alleged to have driven the automobile which struck and seriously injured Mrs. Anna Schug of Menasha, was adjourned for the second time Thursday morning in municipal court at Oshkosh. The date of the hearing was set for Sept. 17, and Perket was released from custody upon his own recognizance Thursday morning upon condition that he is to find employment in order to recompense Mrs. Schug for hospital costs which resulted from the accident.

Mrs. Schug is reported to be recovering gradually at the hospital here. Perket will answer to charges of reckless driving and failure to stop to render aid. After striking down Mrs. Schug during the afternoon of July 2, it is alleged, Perket sped up his car instead of stopping to give aid. He was pursued by an automobile driven by Fred Voras of Chicago and two companions and was not caught until after a chase of several miles.

NORTHWEST FREE FROM GRAIN RUST

Hot Weather and Drought Checks Growth of Black Stem Blight

Minneapolis, Minn. — (AP) — The northwest very likely will escape heavy losses from grain rust this year, says an announcement Thursday from the northwest society for the prevention of grain rust.

"The present advanced condition of the grain" the announcement states, "rules out any great rust loss this year even though the rust becomes very heavy between now and harvest, which in southern Minnesota is only 10 days to two weeks away."

The hot dry weather which the northwest had this spring is credited with making possible the present favorable condition regarding rust.

"Black stem rust, which is fostered by the common burberry bush as heat in which to grow and multiply rapidly. The drought this spring held the rust in check and only a small amount was present in the grain fields until a short time ago."

COOLIDGE IS EXPERT FISHER

President Has Technique of Casting and Handling Rod Down to Fine Point

Coolidge's skill as a fisherman has developed to a point where his guides are complimenting him on his technique in casting and in handling his line when he trolls on Osgood lake. He frequently spends but an hour or more before lunch favors him. But when one of the big pike takes the presidential bait Mr. Coolidge knows just how to make the strike and how to bring the fish craftily to the boat. He pulls it aboard himself.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge invited their first guests at White Pine camp for lunch Thursday, former Representative Homer P. Snyder of Little Falls.

ANKLE COMPETITION PASSES

At the annual Hounslo Hospital fete in London a feature for years has been the dainty ankle competition, but it was eliminated this year. A. J. Luto chairman of the demonstration committee, has announced that due to the vigorous outdoor sports indulged in by women and the new era wherein women work and walk in competition with men, the dainty ankle is passing. In fact, he said it has passed, generally speaking.

Markets

STOCK UNSTEADY ON WALL STREET

Alternate Periods of Weakness and Strength Characterize Market

New York — (AP) — Alternate periods of weakness and strength characterized Thursday's stock market, but the lowest prices of the day generally were recorded in the last hour. An early wave of selling, was checked by a reduction in the call money rate but liquidation broke out anew in the late afternoon with short covering operations imparting an irregular tone to final dealings.

Copper, low priced oils and most of the motor shares were in demand. General Motors, however, encountered further profit taking, receding nearly two points at the outset.

Technical considerations continued to sway price movements in the early dealings without any particular regard for the favorable news from grade centers. The market gradually developed a stronger tone, however, as the two industrial leaders, United States Steel and General Motors began to respond to a fresh influx of buying orders. There was less evidence of the strategic bidding of one set of stocks in order to cover up selling activities elsewhere.

Pool operations were carried out successfully in numerous specialties such as International Harvester, Savage Arms American Safety Razor and Case Threshing Machine, while rails resumed their advance under the leadership of Lehigh Valley. Atlantic Coast line and Missouri Pacific Preferred, French Belgian and Italian Exchanges opened lower but demand sterling held firm.

The closing was heavy. Total sales approximately 1,300,000 shares.

GOTHAM PEOPLE SHELTER BIRDS

Residents With Moderate Incomes Take Pains to Feed and Protect Pigeons

New York — (AP) — Thousands of bird lovers are included in New York's teeming population and it has been noted that they reside almost entirely in those sections given over to households of moderate incomes.

Along the roofs on several of the East Side's drab and tortuous streets, can be seen a succession of pigeon cotes and the ubiquitous canary trills bravely against the roar of the elevated from frequent windows along the tracks.

There are hordes of free and unattached birds also to be found in the densest sections apparently culling a fat and easy living from the much maligned "cold-hearted New Yorker."

The pigeons of Custom House Square and Battery Park are well known to tourists, as are the robins of Central Park (in season), but only the cliff-dwellers of Broadway know that at certain well-established corners the assertive sparrow meets in daily, noisy convention.

One such place is at Broadway and 10th street. Each afternoon the air is dark with the gathering throngs seeking their accustomed roosts under the crested eaves of the ultra modern duplex apartment house.

EASTERN SOLON KEEPS UP FIGHT OF EAST AND WEST

See Grave Danger in Growing Breach Over Farm Relief

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington — "The Bryan or Brookhart West." Senator William Cabell Bruce coined this expression a few days ago in discussing proposed farm relief legislation.

It was all over the Capitol inside half an hour.

The phrase's catchiness gave it a currency which, in the judgment of numerous lawmakers, promises that it will be much heard in the course of the coming campaign.

A good many of them wish Bruce had not used it. There has been considerable worry in Congress of late over the increasing cleavage between East and West. Comparisons have been drawn between this cleavage and the cleavage between the North and South which led to the Civil War. Nobody predicts that the apparently growing antagonism of the West toward the East and the seeming indifference of the East toward the West will lead to war. Still, there are legislators who say it threatens something serious.

A catch-phrase like "the Bryan or Brookhart West" can be so used, they add, as to make matters worse. "Ever since my boyhood," said Bruce, "that part of the West which I will call the Bryan or Brookhart West has been hatching out at one time or another economic fallacies."

Then he proceeded to enumerate:
1—The greenback agitation—the proposed substitution of "printing press money" for "real money."
2—The populist movement—with a reference to Senator Peffer's whistles and Senator Jerry Simpson's reputed socklessness.

3—The free silver campaign—"in defiance of every natural law."
4—The demand for a protective tariff on farm products—a demand to which congress acceded, "and what good has it done."

Now farm relief by artificial means—by means, according to Bruce, unconstitutional, economically unsound and sure, if attempted, to make a bad situation worse.

From start to finish the senator harped on "The Bryan or Brookhart West."

"The Bryan or Brookhart West," he insisted, is in process of liquidation, following the war period of inflation, and will presently get back to normal if left to itself, but if "quack remedies" are applied, nobody can tell what graver troubles may ensue.

As to the essentials of his argument, Bruce and farm relief's proponents simply are on different sides and doubtless could disagree peaceably, but no section of the country likes to be referred to as an incubator, throughout all modern historical times, of "economic fallacies," or to be designated as "Bryan or Brookhart West" in a fashion that left no doubt its originator meant it as a term of contempt.

A western man might have done it without arousing so much obvious resentment, but not a senator from the extreme east. At least, one gathers as much from farm bloc members in both lobbies at the Capitol.

Bruce probably has provided western spell binders with a first-class slogan, however, for the campaign of 1926.

Brookhart-ites, by the way, are delighted. They believe the linking of Brookhart's name with Bryan's and the application of the twain to the geographical region whence both sprang insure to the Iowa thousands of votes which might otherwise have gone to his opposition candidate.

MINISTERS STUDY WAY TO BAR OUT CARNIVALS

Means of preventing carnivals from coming to the city in the future and a discussion of the city council's policy of allowing the Dodson's World's Fair to come here for an eight day exhibit next week were considered at a meeting of Appleton Ministerial association 1:15 Wednesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Hugh C. Corbett, secretary of Appleton chamber of commerce, explained the laws on carnivals especially the laws prohibiting gambling concessions and lotteries to the ministers.

MARY GARDEN TO TAKE ROLE IN NEW OPERA

Paris—(AP)—Chicago will have the first hearing of a new French opera next season.
Emile Bergerat's play "More than Queen" has been set to music by the composer, Marcel Bertrand. Mary Garden, after hearing Madame Cortot and David Devries go through the libretto and the score, decided to produce the work in Chicago at the beginning of next season, taking the role of Josephine herself.
The work will be given in Paris next spring, under Mary Garden's direction, at one of the theatres under the management of the Brothers

CLAIMS WIFE INSPIRES HIM IN LOVE SCENES

Hollywood, Calif.—(AP)—An actor has been found who looks at his wife just before he kisses his movie heroine. Lars Hanson, imported from Sweden, is playing opposite Lillian Gish in "The Scarlet Letter." Karin Noland, Swedish actress, is his wife.
"Jealousy is remote from my wife's mind," Hanson explains. "She is forever with me at my request. I love her devotedly, and when she is near me I can reflect this love much better."
Isola, formerly directors of the Opera Comique.
